Illinois Executive Is in Colorado Springs After Successful Fight for State Control of Public Utilities

State Historical and Natural History Society

Edward F. Dunne, Illinois' [illegible] governor, as his fellow citizens call him, reached Colorado [illegible] yesterday with his family, consisting of Mrs. Dunne, [illegible] the Misses Eileen and Nona Dunne, and his son Maurice. [illegible] victorious in his fight with the utility corporations of the state, securing the creation of a public utilities commission that has the control of the corporations serving the public within its grasp, Governor Dunne is the very picture of the conquering statesman.

His pet hobby, the state control of public service corporations, on which subject he is one of the best authorities in the United States, promises to be one of the important topics to be discussed by the governors at their conference and he will give an address Friday on the topic, "The Growth of Administrative Commissions."

Will Investigate the State Roads.

Probably the most important of his missions to Colorado is to investigate the convict system of the construction of state roads. Governor Dunne last night met Warden Thomas J. Tynan of the Colorado penitentiary, who came to Colorado Springs especially to see the Illinois executive and the two arranged a trip over the Canon City convict-built road.

GOVERNOR DUNNE

Governor Dunne last week sent Edmund L. Allen, warden of the state penitentiary at Joliet, to Colorado and Allen spent the last week with Warden Tynan going over the plans for convict labor on the roads. Governor Dunne recently had passed a bill which will give every convict who works on the roads for three days, one day off his sentence.

"I believe that this plan of the construction of public roads is a winner. You all know here what kind of roads they build. It provides an outdoor life [illegible] for the convicts, it gives them an incentive to [illegible] and [illegible] features," said Governor Dunne.

GOV. DUNNE IN TABLOID

"Let's keep our hands off Mexico. The situation is not now acute and President Wilson is doing just what's right."

"There should be some wide comprehensive plan of the government to protect property in states jeopardized by the floods and prevent the great losses of property and life."

"The woman school teachers of Chicago converted me to woman suffrage. When I saw how they forced the corporations to cough up taxes they should have paid, I thought how valuable women would be in politics."

"After an eight-year fight I have succeeded in securing a measure that allows every city in Illinois to own every public utility."

"The gubernatorial situation in New York is purely a local matter for them to decide. It would not be proper for me to say who should be governor, for what have I to say about it?"

MOTION PICTURE MEN HERE FOR FEATURES

[illegible] Junction Season

The Pikes Peak region in its busiest time will be flashed on the screens of motion picture theaters of the world. The polo tournament, the governors' conference, the Shan Kive next week and Manitou at the height of its tourist season will be filmed here during the next two weeks.

The United States Motion Films company yesterday sent two operators to the Cheyenne Mountain Country club tournament and several hundred feet of pictures were taken, including the players, the field, the country club and the background of Cheyenne Mountain. Today the governors will be photographed in action on Mount Manitou in their various poses and tomorrow Manitou will be filmed.

The city of Manitou appropriated $2,500 for a picture and a film, 3,383 feet long is to be taken for advertising purposes. All the beauty spots and the points of interested will be photographed.

Next week the Shan Kive events will be filmed and all the interesting events and camps will be taken. The character of the carnival, with its unique setting in the Garden of the Gods, its Indian and cowboy camps and its various events will make it an attractive film.

SHERIDAN'S POLO RANCHERS OVERWHELM DENVER QUARTET; WIN BY 10 3-4 TO 3-4

Brilliant Contest Scheduled in Double Match Today for Foxhall Keene Trophy

Long, lofting, well-timed strokes resulting from snappy team play, were predominant factors in yesterday's match at the polo tournament, when the Sheridan Polo ranch four defeated the Denver Country club by the score of 10¾ to ¾.

The score scarcely indicates the strength of the two teams, as yesterday's battle royal probably saw more fierce milling and rougher tactics than any of the matches of the tournament. But the Englishmen from Sheridan outrode their Denver opponents in the breakaway, and were far more daring, winning largely because they poked the ball on the dead gallop, and did not slow down when they aimed their strokes.

The wiry little ponies of the Sheridan ranch, all trained for the sport of kings, instinctively knew their places, and not once in an equal chase for the ball did the Denver players nose out.

Keene Kept Out of Game.

Only one game was staged yesterday, owing to the fact that Foxhall Keene has not yet recovered from his injuries of Monday. In spite of this fact the interest kept up undiminished, and the cheers of the spectators in the grand stands and the shouts of those in the automobile section gave evidence that polo has won its place in Colorado Springs.

So important is the revival tournament being conducted by the Country club in the eyes of the general public that it will be flashed on moving picture screens all over the world. The United States Motion Films company, makers of the Gaumont Animated Weekly films, yesterday had a machine and two operators on the field, and the team play, the Country club field, with its background of the green rugged mountains and the crowds surrounding the field, were all taken.

Great Games on Today.

Today will probably mark the fiercest matches of the tournament. The finals for the Keene cup will be staged at 2:30 o'clock, when the Denver Prairie Dogs meet the Cheyenne Mountain Country club. With Keene in good condition, and the ponies ready and willing, the locals' play should be topnotch. The Denver Prairie Dogs, led by Foster Symes, Barry Huston, George Le Pier and D. Bryant Turner, present a speedy four, versed in team play, astride fine ponies and always ready to take desperate chances. The locals will not shoot goals with

HABEAS CORPUS WRIT IS WITHDRAWN

Matteawan Fugitive Will Not be Arraigned Today; Long Legal Fight On

SHERBROOKE, Que., Aug. 27.—(Wednesday).—The New York state forces and associated counsel fighting for the return of Harry K. Thaw to Matteawan announced early today that, in their opinion, the move of the defense to abandon the writ of habeas corpus could not be done without formal permission of the court and that in any event Thaw would be forced into court even if the commitment on which he is held had to be quashed.

The announcement was made by Franklin Kennedy, deputy attorney general, who returned from Ottawa and Montreal late last night. If the state forces can make good their threat, Thaw may be discharged today and turned over to the immigration authorities for deportation before night.

SHERBROOKE, Que., Aug. 26.—Harry K. Thaw's Canadian attorneys late today withdrew the writ of habeas corpus obtained last week in his behalf and the fugitive from Matteawan will not be arraigned in the superior court tomorrow morning, as had been expected. The withdrawal of the writ may prolong the proceedings indefinitely.

Rumors had been bandied about all day that the writ might be withdrawn, but it was not until this evening that the notice was filed with the clerk of the court. At the same time a telegram was sent to Judge Arthur Globensky [illegible] the [illegible]

WEST GETS $24,700,000

McAdoo Distributes Amounts in Sections Where They Are Most Needed

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—Secretary McAdoo announced today the apportionment as far as it had been completed of the $50,000,000 to be deposited by the government in national banks of the west and south to facilitate the movement and marketing of crops. The total amount allotted to date is $46,[illegible], of which $24,700,000 goes to banks in the western states and $21,[illegible] to the southern states and the District of Columbia. Those in the west want the money apportioned to them during September, October and November. The money will be allowed to remain on deposit on an average of [illegible] months. All of it is to be returned not later than next April.

In a statement announcing the apportionment [illegible] McAdoo said: "The [illegible] in the [illegible] south at this time [illegible] that there is [illegible] the money to [illegible] crops which [illegible] the east and [illegible] the [illegible] Secretary [illegible] government [illegible] to extend similar [illegible]

THRILLS HEARERS IN ADDRESS ASKING AID FOR STRUGGLING MEN AND WOMEN

Secretary Lane Promises Better Conditions in Telling of Government's New Land Policy

The faces of suffering women—self-sacrificing men with toil-hardened visages,; desperate struggles against relentless western deserts; loneliness, fortitude, nobility of character, heroism equal to that ever displayed by soldiers on any battlefield—with the memory of all these things fresh in mind from his western trip, Franklin K. Lane, secretary of the interior, stood up before the opening session of the governors' conference yesterday morning and told of the work to be done in his department.

A speech that held his audience spellbound revealed the secretary as a man with a big heart beating in full sympathy with the struggling western pioneer who holds in his new land policy the promise of better times and sympathetic treatment from the government to the men and women who are building their homes in the west.

Secretary Lane was not expected to appear at the first session of the conference, but when it was found he would be present and make an address, the program as planned was shortened to allow for his speech.

Gov. McGovern Opens Conference.

The conference opened shortly after 10 o'clock in The Burns theater, when Governor Francis E. McGovern of Wisconsin, chairman of the executive committee of the conference, made the official opening announcements, and introduced Governor Tasker L. Oddie of Nevada, who had been selected to act as chairman for the morning session. After expressing his appreciation of the honor the conference had in being so fortunate as to be able to meet in Colorado Springs with its climate and hospitality, Governor Oddie introduced Governor E. M. Ammons, who delivered extemporaneously the address of welcome in behalf of the state of Colorado.

Governor Ammons' Address.

"We believe that we have many things in Colorado to offer for the benefit of the visitors and on the other hand we realize that we have a great deal to learn from other states," he said. "Our state is very young, little more than 40 years of age, but in that brief space of time we feel that our people have done nobly. They have reclaimed a large portion of the state from a wilderness and turned it into a region of rich farms, fertile valleys or beautiful cities. We have brought from the earth billions of dollars in gold, silver and other metals, we are rapidly coming to the front as a fruit state and in the line of other agricultural products. We feel that we have a great future and we know that we have a fine, energetic and broadminded class of citizens who are laying a firm foundation for future generations. You from the east can learn something from our optimism and we can learn something from your experience, for you are a much older people, governmentally speaking, than we. We want you to enjoy yourselves while here and after you are through with your deliberations in this city we want you to see other parts of the state before you go to your homes. We have a big state here and it would take you weeks to see any considerable portion of it, but a few days will suffice to give you an idea of some of its advantages and attractions outside of the Pikes Peak region. We want you to come to Denver, which is noted for its openhearted hospitality, and we hope your visit to Colorado will increase that pride in our great country and love for that great flag that stands for justice and freedom."

Mayor Charles L. McKesson delivered

LANE'S NEW POLICY

"The government's first duty in its land development is to help all it can the men and women who are building homes in the west."

"Has a man a right to water he does not use?"

"More than ten years should be given settlers engaged in reclamation work to pay for water rights."

"Eighty million dollars the government has spent in western reclamation work in the last ten years must be backed up by a similar sum in the next ten years."

"The great things in this country are going to come from the west."

"The government will not allow overcharging through private monopoly of western water power."

INCOME TAX NOT TO BE CHANGED?

BORAH AMENDMENT IS DEFEATED

Democrats Support Measure as Originally Drawn by Committee

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—Attempts to increase the limit of the proposed income tax on the larger incomes failed in the senate today when Senators Borah, Bristow and Cummins led an effort to amend the income tax section of the Democratic tariff bill.

Senator Borah offered an amendment increasing the graduated tax on larger incomes until it would have reached 6 per cent on those above $100,000 a year. The Democrats, aided by 10 Republicans, defeated the amendment, 47 to 17.

A more radical provision, with a maximum tax of 10 per cent on incomes of $100,000 or more, will be submitted by Senator Bristow when the debate is resumed.

In the pending bill the rates on larger incomes are:

One per cent on incomes of from $20,000 to $50,000; 2 per cent from $50,000 to $100,000; and 3 per cent above $100,000.

Borah's Amendment.

Senator Borah proposed the following "additional tax:"

One per cent on incomes from $10,000 to $20,000; 2 per cent from $20,000 to $50,000; 3 per cent from $50,000 to $80,000; 4 per cent from $80,000 to $100,000; and 6 per cent above $100,000.

"The man with the small income always pays his tax more completely," said Senator Borah, "than does the man with the larger income. It is much easier to find all of the $5,000 [illegible] to find all of the $50,000 [illegible]. A tax of 4 or 5 per cent on the man with $100,000 will not [illegible] than the 1 per cent [illegible]

Senator Root said the plan to tax the individual "gains and profits" of all [illegible] would be [illegible]

Senator Williams said this section would be gone over again in the committee in an effort to make its meaning more clear. It was devised, he said, to prevent evasions of the tax.

SPRINGS MEN WANT LANE TO HELP THEM

Petition Secretary to Restore Coal Lands to Entry Withdrawn in 1906

A petition to restore their rights to entry on coal lands in Routt county, which the department of the interior has refused to do because of the withdrawals of the land in 1906 and 1907, was made to Franklin K. Lane, secretary of the interior, yesterday at the Antlers hotel by several Colorado Springs men. Only six or seven men were present at the interview with the secretary, but they represent 20 or 30 local people whose entries have been similarly canceled.

The position of the local men is that the withdrawals of 1906-7 were illegal, and Secretary Lane promised that he would look carefully to their interests. If the courts declare the withdrawals illegal, he said, the local people will be allowed to take up their land at $10 an acre, the price prevailing when they filed on it in 1905.

E. R. Stark, one of those who presented the petition to Mr. Lane, said last night that six months ago in the United States circuit court at Cheyenne, Judge Riner declared the withdrawals in question illegal. A similar suit, based on the withdrawals of 1906-7, will be tried next month in Denver, he says, and another is soon to come up in California. Secretary Lane's action will await the outcome of these cases.

The local people have filed on about 160 acres of coal land each in Routt county. The filings were made in 1905 after the alleged illegal withdrawals of 1906-7, [illegible] Senator Henry M. Teller as attorney for many of those filing. A subsequent withdrawal was made in August 1906. They admit that this one was legal but they maintain that their entries, made two years before, hold good in spite of it.

The Colorado Springs people holding coal land in Routt county have in many cases opened up coal deposits, but their operations have been held up for four years. The coal in that district is bituminous. [illegible] shipping is done now because it is [illegible] miles to a railroad, but when the railroad reaches there [illegible] shipping will begin. This, he believes, will be in about a month.

U. S. AND MEXICO TO BREAK OFF NEGOTIATIONS TODAY?

Huerta Has Until Noon to Accept Peace Plans or President Wilson Will Proclaim Message to World

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—The dilatory attitude of the Huerta government today gave administration officials hope that some concessions might be made to the American proposals for peace in Mexico, but indications pointed to a final ending of the negotiations tomorrow when President Wilson is scheduled to read his message to both houses of congress, defining the policy which he thinks the United States should pursue toward its southern neighbor.

A 24-hour postponement of the presentation of the message, which was to have been read today, was agreed to after a joint request from Frederico Gamboa, Mexican foreign minister, and John Lind, President Wilson's personal representative in Mexico. It followed repeated efforts on the part of the Huerta officials to have the reading of the document deferred indefinitely.

Mr. Lind left the Mexican capital early today for Vera Cruz, however, with the understanding that the United States would announce its policy tomorrow unless the Huerta government receded.

Demands Made By U. S.

Mr. Lind had made certain supplementary suggestions to Senor Gamboa, the nature of which was not divulged, but administration officials declared these constituted no departure from the fundamentals of the American note. The original proposals were officially announced as follows:

1—Cessation of hostilities and a definite armistice.

2—An early and free election.

3—Huerta to bind himself not to be a candidate.

4—An agreement by all parties to abide by the results of the election.

Mr. Lind informed Senor Gamboa that he would stop in Vera Cruz, [illegible] could be [illegible] there [illegible] should be [illegible] to his last [illegible]

[illegible] note of reply to the American proposals.

[illegible] Up at Noon [illegible]

[illegible] Mr. Lind, [illegible] practically [illegible] went to Vera Cruz chiefly to [illegible] upon the [illegible] administration that tomorrow [illegible] was [illegible] the last moment the United States would wait before proclaiming to the world the position it has taken toward the Huerta [illegible] and the course which it [illegible] to pursue for years, if [illegible], to uphold the principles of orderly and constitutional government in Latin America.

With the nature of the new proposals of the United States admitted officially, discussion centered chiefly on the [illegible] of any demand for the [illegible] of [illegible], which had generally been supposed was part of the American note. It was suggested by officials, however, that this government could not logically call upon Huerta to resign a post which it never recognized him as legally holding. So far as the United States is concerned, Huerta is not the constitutionally chosen provisional president of Mexico, because of the irregularities attending his assumption of office. Not only was there no quorum in the Mexican congress when Madero's resignation was presented according to official reports

LIND AND GAMBOA EXCHANGING NOTES

Nature Not Disclosed by Either Official; Huerta to Fight Rebels

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 26.—President Wilson's personal representative, John Lind, and Federico Gamboa, the Mexican minister of foreign affairs, are again exchanging notes on the subject of relations between the respective governments, notwithstanding the fact that Mr. Lind has already left the capital and that President Wilson's other agent, William Bayard Hale, was planning to leave tomorrow.

Senor Gamboa's note, which he says is in reply to one he received [illegible] A Mexican envoy was sent to Mr. Lind at Vera Cruz tonight. The Mexican foreign minister is reticent as to the character of the exchange [illegible] finally it is said they [illegible] the situation. It is believed [illegible]

[illegible] delay the message to congress in order that the Mexican government might prepare simultaneous publicity of a portion or all the documents in the case.

Hale May Leave Today.

The government understands that Mr. Lind will leave Vera Cruz for the United States Thursday. Mr. Hale's instructions are to leave here tomorrow and sail on Thursday.

That Mr. Lind left the capital perhaps a day or two before Washington expected him to do so, is indicated by the arrival here of W. W. Canada, consul at Vera Cruz, on orders from the state department to meet and accompany Mr. Lind to Vera Cruz.

The envoy had already left, however, when Consul Canada reached Mexico City.

Mr. Lind made the trip to Vera Cruz in an ordinary day coach in the absence of the train with a private car which had been proffered by President Huerta. Senor Gamboa was told that the officials at Washington appeared to believe that Mr. Lind's return to the Mexican capital was not improbable.

Lind Welcome to Remain.

Mr. Lind will be entirely welcome in Mexico, should he wish to return, according to the minister.

Though somewhat reassured by the

COMMERCIAL BANKS CANNOT SERVE THE FARMER; MUST ESTABLISH RURAL CREDITS

American Farmers Far Behind Those of Europe Through Lack of Cooperation

With the declaration that the banking system of the United States is designated for the special benefit of commerce and discriminates against agriculture, Gordon Jones, president of the United States National bank of Denver, speaking for Senator Duncan U. Fletcher of Florida, who was unable to come to Colorado Springs yesterday, urged before the House of Governors the introduction into the United States of a cooperative system of rural credits akin to systems employed in Europe.

Mr. Jones is vice chairman of the committee on finance of the American commission on agricultural cooperation, which returned to the United States July 26 after a three months' study of European systems of rural credits. Although he did not make the trip to Europe, Senator Fletcher was chairman of the commission. Owing to congress being in session the senator found it impossible to come to Colorado Springs to deliver his address and asked Mr. Jones to do so for him.

Paper Arouses Much Interest.

Much interest was manifested in the paper and discussion [illegible] practically the entire [illegible] Time and again several of the governors, especially McGovern of Wisconsin, Mann of Virginia, O'Neal of Alabama and former Governor Adams of Colorado, shot a rapid fire string of questions at the speaker to more clearly bring out some point taken either in Senator Fletcher's paper or in Mr. Jones' speech.

Mr. Jones' speech, summing up in a very brief manner the findings of the American commission, formed a part of the report of the committee on cooperation, of which Gov. Emmet O'Neal of Alabama is chairman. Governor O'Neal made a short oral report, saying the committee was not ready to file with the house a complete written report of its findings. All were in favor of establishing a system of rural credits, he said, but they had not prepared a bill which they would advise the various states to adopt.

Governors Will Present Report.

"Before the present session is over," the executive stated, "we will present to this body a report, containing those matters which we believe should be included in a bill establishing rural credits. At this time we consider it impracticable to present to the House of Governors our report in the form of a bill. Instead we wish the question [illegible] so that [illegible] here may express his opinion on the matter."

What the Press Agents Say

TEMPLE MALE QUARTET

The Temple Male quartet, consisting of Messrs. Clark, Sybes, Schlotter and [illegible] have for some time been in [illegible] request for numbers at Colorado Springs functions but not until [illegible] did they appear in an entertainment wholly their own. The [illegible], then, surpassed their most sanguine expectations, and their really meritorious performance met with so evident appreciation that they have consented to give visitors and citizens another opportunity to hear them Friday evening of this week.

It is rarely the case that, in cities of this state, can be found four such good voices that blend so harmoniously. Their execution is good, whether in pathos or humor, and the published program promises extremely well.

The quartet is most fortunate in having the assistance of Mrs. E. E. Tallaferro, Colorado Springs' favorite soprano, who is down for two numbers, and of Lloyd Shaw, reader and impersonator, who is a past master in his line, perfectly irresistible in his mimicry and faithful to a degree in his impersonations.

The entire performance will be replete with enjoyment. It will be at the First Baptist church, southeast corner of Weber and Kiowa streets, and the proceeds will be used in the musical work of the church. Tickets are on sale at all music stores and may be had at the door on the night of the concert next Friday evening.

GOV. DUNNE TO GET POINTERS ON CONVICT-BUILT HIGHWAYS

Illinois Executive Is in Colorado Springs After Successful Fight for State Control of Public Utilities

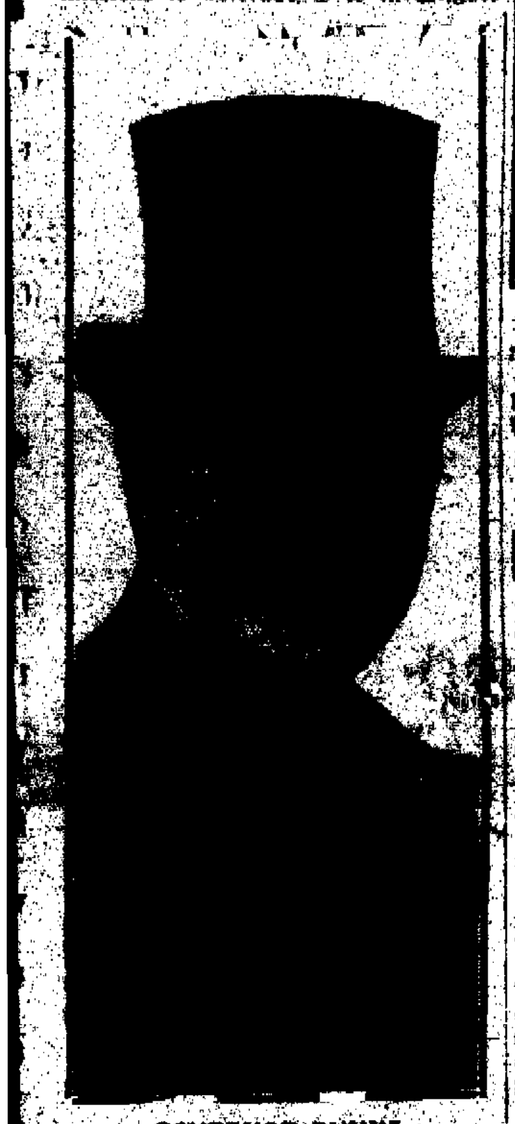
Edward F. Dunne, Illinois' [illegible] governor, as his fellow citizens call him, reached Colorado [illegible] yesterday with his family, consisting of Mrs. Dunne, [illegible] the Misses Eileen and Nona Dunne, and his son Maurice. [illegible] victorious in his fight with the utility corporations of the state, [illegible] securing the creation of a public utilities commission that has the control of the corporations serving the public within its grasp, Governor Dunne is the very picture of the conquering statesman.

State Historical and Natural History Society

His pet hobby, the state control of public service corporations, on which subject he is one of the best authorities in the United States, promises to be one of the important topics to be discussed by the governors at their conference and he will give an address Friday on the topic, "The Growth of Administrative Commissions."

Will Investigate the State Roads.

Probably the most important of his missions to Colorado is to investigate the convict system of the construction of state roads. Governor Dunne last night met Warden Thomas J. Tynan of the Colorado penitentiary, who came to Colorado Springs especially to see the Illinois executive and the two arranged a trip over the Canon City convict-built road.



GOVERNOR DUNNE

Governor Dunne last week sent Edmund L. Allen, warden of the state penitentiary at Joliet to Colorado and Allen spent the last week with Warden Tynan going over the plans for convict labor on the roads. Governor Dunne recently had passed a bill which will give every convict who works on the roads for three days, one day off his sentence.

"I believe that this plan of the construction of public roads is a winner. You all know here what kind of roads they build. It provides an outdoor life for the convicts, it gives them an incentive to work and [illegible] features," said Governor Dunne.

According to Governor Dunne, Illi-

GOV. DUNNE IN TABLOID

"Let's keep our hands off Mexico. The situation is not now acute and President Wilson is doing just what's right."

"There should be some wide comprehensive plan of the government to protect property in states jeopardized by the floods and prevent the great losses of property and life."

"The woman school teachers of Chicago converted me to woman suffrage. When I saw how they forced the corporations to 'cough up' taxes they should have paid, I thought how valuable women would be in politics."

"After an eight-year fight I have succeeded in securing a measure that allows every city in Illinois to own every public utility."

"The gubernatorial situation in New York is purely a local matter for them to decide. It would not be proper for me to say who should be governor, for what have I to say about it?"

MOTION PICTURE MEN HERE FOR FEATURES

[illegible] to Show Pikes Peak Region at Height of Summer Season

The Pikes Peak region in its busiest time will be flashed on the screens of motion picture theaters of the world. The polo tournament, the governors' conference, the Shan Kive next week and Manitou at the height of its tourist season will be filmed here during the next two weeks.

The United States Motion Films company yesterday sent two operators to the Cheyenne Mountain Country club tournament and several hundred feet of pictures were taken, including the players, the field, the country club and the background of Cheyenne mountain. Today the governors will be photographed in action on Mount Manitou in their various poses and tomorrow Manitou will be filmed.

The city of Manitou appropriated $2,500 for a picture and a film 2,000 feet long is to be taken for advertising purposes. All the beauty spots and the points of interested will be photographed.

Next week the Shan Kive events will be filmed and all the interesting events and camps will be taken. The character of the carnival, with its unique setting in the Garden of the Gods, its Indian and cowboy camps and its various events will make it an attractive film.

SHERIDAN'S POLO RANCHERS OVERWHELM DENVER QUARTET; WIN BY 10 3-4 TO 3-4

Brilliant Contest Scheduled in Double Match Today for Foxhall Keene Trophy

Long, lofting, well-timed strokes, resulting from snappy team play, were predominant factors in yesterday's match at the polo tournament, when the Sheridan Polo ranch four defeated the Denver Country club by the score of 10¾ to ¾.

The score scarcely indicates the strength of the two teams, as yesterday's battle royal probably saw more fierce milling and rougher tactics than any of the matches of the tournament. But the Englishmen from Sheridan outrode their Denver opponents in the breakaway, and were far more daring, winning largely because they poked the ball on the dead gallop, and did not slow down when they aimed their strokes.

The wiry little ponies of the Sheridan ranch, all trained for the sport of kings, instinctively knew their places and not once in an equal chase for the ball did the Denver players nose out

Keene Kept Out of Game.

Only one game was staged yesterday, owing to the fact that Foxhall Keene has not yet recovered from his injuries of Monday. In spite of this fact the interest kept up undiminished, and the cheers of the spectators in the grand stands and the shouts of those in the automobile section gave evidence that polo has won its place in Colorado Springs.

So important is the revival tournament being conducted by the [illegible] club in the eyes of the general public that it will be flashed on moving picture screens all over the world. The United States Motion Films company, makers of the Gaumont Animated Weekly films, yesterday had a machine and two operators on the field and the teams' play, the Country club field, over its background of the [illegible] mountains and the crowds surrounding the field were all taken.

Great Games on Today.

Today will probably mark the fiercest matches of the tournament. The finals for the Keene cup will be staged at 2:30 o'clock, when the Denver Prairie Dogs meet the Cheyenne Mountain Country club. With Keene in good condition, and the ponies ready and willing, the locals' play should be topnotch. The Denver Prairie Dogs, led by Foster Symes, Parry Huston, George [illegible] and [illegible] Bryant [illegible], present a speedy four versed in team play, astride fine ponies and always ready to take desperate chances. The locals will not shoot goals with

HABEAS CORPUS WRIT IS WITHDRAWN

Matteawan Fugitive Will Not be Arraigned Today; Long Legal Fight On

SHERBROOKE, Que., Aug. 27 (Wednesday).—The New York state forces and associated counsel fighting for the return of Harry K. Thaw to Matteawan announced early today that, in their opinion, the move of the defense to abandon the writ of habeas corpus could not be done without formal permission of the court and that in any event Thaw would be forced into court even if the commitment on which he is held had to be quashed.

The announcement was made by Franklin Kennedy, deputy attorney general, who returned from Ottawa and Montreal late last night. If the state forces can make good their threat, Thaw may be discharged today and turned over to the immigration authorities for deportation before night.

SHERBROOKE, Que., Aug. 26.—Harry K. Thaw's Canadian attorneys late today withdrew the writ of habeas corpus obtained last week in his behalf and the fugitive from Matteawan will not be arraigned in the superior court tomorrow morning, as had been expected. The withdrawal of the writ may prolong the proc[illegible] indefinitely.

Rumors had been bandied about all day that the writ might be withdrawn, but it was not until this evening that the notice was filed with the clerk of the court. At the same time a telegram was sent to Judge Arthur Globensky, at Montreal, who granted the writ, [illegible] due here tomorrow to [illegible] on the application.

WEST GETS $24,700,000

McAdoo Distributes Amounts in Sections Where They Are Most Needed

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—Secretary McAdoo announced today the apportionment as far as it had been completed of the $50,000,000 to be deposited by the government in national banks of the west and south to facilitate the movement and marketing of crops. The total amount allotted to date is $46,500,000, of which $24,700,000 goes to banks in the [illegible] western states and $21,800,000 to the [illegible] southern states and the District of Columbia. Those in the west want the money apportioned to them during September, October and November. The money will be allowed to re[illegible] deposit on an average of from [illegible] to five months. All of it is to be [illegible] not later than next April.

In a statement [illegible] the apportionment, Secretary McAdoo said:

THRILLS HEARERS IN ADDRESS ASKING AID FOR STRUGGLING MEN AND WOMEN

Secretary Lane Promises Better Conditions in Telling of Government's New Land Policy

The faces of suffering women, self-sacrificing men with toil-hardened visages; desperate struggles against relentless western deserts; loneliness, fortitude, nobility of character, heroism equal to that ever displayed by soldiers on any battlefield—with the memory of all these things fresh in mind from his western trip, Franklin K. Lane, secretary of the interior, stood up before the opening session of the governors' conference yesterday morning and told of the work to be done in his department.

A speech that held his audience spellbound revealed the secretary as a man with a big heart beating in full sympathy with the struggling western pioneer, who holds in his new land policy the promise of better times and sympathetic treatment from the government to the men and women who are building their homes in the west.

Secretary Lane was not expected to appear at the first session of the conference, but when it was found he would be present and make an address, the program as planned was shortened to allow for his speech.

Gov. McGovern Opens Conference.

The conference opened shortly after 10 o'clock in The Burns theater, when Governor Francis E. McGovern of Wisconsin, chairman of the executive committee of the conference, made the official opening announcements and introduced Governor Tasker L. Oddie of Nevada, who had been selected to act as chairman for the morning session. After expressing his appreciation of the honor the conference had in being so fortunate as to be able to meet in Colorado Springs with its climate and hospitality, Governor Oddie introduced Governor E. M. Ammons, who delivered extemporaneously the address of welcome in behalf of the state of Colorado.

Governor Ammons' Address.

"We believe that we have many things in Colorado to offer for the benefit of the visitors and on the other hand we realize that we have a great deal to learn from other states," he said. "Our state is very young; little more than 40 years of age, but in that brief space of time we feel that our people have done nobly. They have reclaimed a large portion of the state from a wilderness and turned it into a region of rich farms, fertile valleys or beautiful cities. We have brought from the earth billions of dollars in gold, silver and other metals, we are rapidly coming to the front as a fruit state and in the line of other agricultural products. We feel that we have a great future and we know that we have a fine, energetic and broad-minded class of citizens who are laying a firm foundation for future generations. You from the east can learn something from our optimism, and we can learn something from your experience, for you are a much older people, governmentally speaking, than we. We want you to enjoy yourselves while here and after you are through with your deliberations in this city we want you to see other parts of the state before you go to your ohmes. We have a big state here and it would take you weeks to see any considerable portion of it, but a few days will suffice to give you an idea of some of its advantages and attractions outside of the Pikes Peak region. We want you to come to Denver, which is noted for its openhearted hospitality, and we hope your visit to Colorado will increase that pride in our great country and love for that great flag that stands for justice and freedom."

LANE'S NEW POLICY

"The government's first duty in its land development is to help all it can the men and women who are building homes in the west."

"Has a man a right to water he does not use?"

"More than ten years should be given settlers engaged in reclamation work to pay for water rights."

"Eighty million dollars the government has spent in western reclamation work in the last ten years must be backed up by a similar sum in the next ten years."

"The great things in this country are going to come from the west."

"The government will not allow overcharging through private monopoly of western water power."

INCOME TAX NOT TO BE CHANGED?

BORAH AMENDMENT IS DEFEATED

Democrats Support Measure as Originally Drawn by Committee

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—Attempts to increase the limit of the proposed income tax on the larger incomes failed in the senate today when Senators Borah, Bristow and Cummins led an effort to amend the income tax section of the Democratic tariff bill.

Senator Borah offered an amendment increasing the graduated tax on larger incomes until it would have reached 5 per cent on those above $100,000 a year. The Democrats, aided by 10 Republicans, defeated the amendment, 47 to 17.

A more radical provision, with a maximum tax of 10 per cent on incomes of $100,000 or more, will be submitted by Senator Bristow when the debate is resumed.

In the pending bill the rates on larger incomes are:

One per cent on incomes of from $20,000 to $50,000; 2 per cent from $50,000 to $100,000; and 3 per cent above $100,000.

Borah's Amendment.

Senator Borah proposed the following "additional tax:"

One per cent on incomes from $10,000 to $30,000; 2 per cent from $30,000 to $50,000; 3 per cent from $50,000 to $80,000; 4 per cent from $80,000 to $100,000; and 5 per cent above $100,000.

"The man with the small income always pays his tax more completely," said Senator Borah, "than does the man with the larger income. It is much easier to find all of the $5,000 income than to find all of the $50,000 income. A tax of 4 or 5 per cent on the [illegible] will not [illegible] than the 1 per cent [illegible] the man with [illegible]."

"[illegible] thought it well now to establish this tax upon simple grounds," said Senator Williams, in charge of the income tax [illegible]. "In the future the American people will have representatives here who will revise and perfect it."

Senator Root said the plan to tax the undivided "gains and profits" of all corporations or partnerships would be [illegible]

[illegible]

Senator Williams said this section would be gone over again in the committee in an effort to make its meaning more clear. It was devised, he said, to prevent evasions of the tax.

SPRINGS MEN WANT LANE TO HELP THEM

Petition Secretary to Restore Coal Lands to Entry Withdrawn in 1906

A petition to restore their rights to entry on coal lands in Routt county, which the department of the interior has refused to do because of the withdrawals of the land in 1906 and 1907, was made to Franklin K. Lane, secretary of the interior, yesterday at the Antlers hotel by several Colorado Springs men. Only six or seven men were present at the interview with the secretary, but they represent [illegible] or 30 local people whose [illegible] been similarly canceled.

The position of the local men is that the withdrawals of 1906-7 were illegal, and Secretary Lane promised that he would look carefully to their interests. If the courts declare the withdrawals illegal, he said, the local people will be allowed to take up their land at $10 an acre, the price prevailing when they filed on it, in 1905.

E. R. Stark, one of those who presented the petition to Mr. Lane, said last night that two months ago in the United States [illegible] court [illegible] Judge Riner declared the withdrawals in question illegal. A similar suit, based on the withdrawals of 1906-7, will be tried next month in Denver, he says, and another is soon to come up in California. Secretary Lane's action will await the outcome of these cases.

The local people have filed on about 160 acres of coal land each in Routt county. The filings were made in 1905, after the [illegible] withdrawals of 1906-7, [illegible] Senator Henry M. Teller as attorney for many of those filing. A subsequent withdrawal was made in August [illegible]. They admit that this one was legal but they maintain that their entries, made two years before, hold good in spite of it.

The Colorado Springs people holding coal land in Routt county have in many cases opened up coal deposits, but their operations have been held up for four years. The coal in that district is bituminous [illegible] no shipping is done now because it is [illegible] miles to a railroad, but when the railroad reaches there [illegible] was begun. This [illegible] in about a month.

U. S. AND MEXICO TO BREAK OFF NEGOTIATIONS TODAY?

Huerta Has Until Noon to Accept Peace Plans or President Wilson Will Proclaim Message to World

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—The dilatory attitude of the Huerta government today gave administration officials hope that some concessions might be made to the American proposals for peace in Mexico, but indications pointed to a final ending of the negotiations tomorrow when President Wilson is scheduled to read his message to both houses of congress, defining the policy which he thinks the United States should pursue toward its southern neighbor.

A 24-hour postponement of the presentation of the message, which was to have been read today, was agreed to after a joint request from Frederico Gamboa, Mexican foreign minister, and John Lind, President Wilson's personal representative in Mexico. It followed repeated efforts on the part of the Huerta officials to have the reading of the document deferred indefinitely.

Mr. Lind left the Mexican capital early today for Vera Cruz, however, with the understanding that the United States would announce its policy tomorrow unless the Huerta government receded.

Demands Made By U. S.

Mr. Lind had made certain supplementary suggestions to Senor Gamboa, the nature of which was not divulged, but administration officials declared these constituted no departure from the fundamentals of the American note. The original proposals were officially announced as follows:

1—Cessation of hostilities and a definite armistice.

2—An early and free election.

3—Huerta to bind himself not to be a candidate.

4—An agreement by all parties to abide by the results of the election.

Mr. Lind informed Senor Gamboa that he would stop in Vera Cruz, and could be reached there in case there should be any reply to his last [illegible]. For several days Mr. Lind has been [illegible] of negotiations, and the latter [illegible] declaring that, under no circumstances, would the United States yield any of its points [illegible] considerable portion of the [illegible] Huerta [illegible] note of reply to the American proposals.

Time Up at Noon [illegible]

[illegible] It was [illegible] that Mr. Lind, having practically concluded his mission, went to Vera Cruz chiefly to impress upon the Mexican administration that tomorrow noon was positively the last moment the United States would wait before proclaiming to the world the position it has taken toward the Huerta government and the course which it is ready to pursue for years, if necessary, to uphold the principles of orderly and constitutional government in Latin America.

With the nature of the four proposals of the United States admitted officially, discussion centered chiefly on the absence of any demand for the immediate retirement of Huerta, which had generally been supposed was part of the American note. It was suggested by officials, however, that this government could not logically call upon Huerta to resign a post which it never recognized him as legally holding. So far as the United States is concerned, Huerta is not the constitutionally chosen provisional president of Mexico, because of the irregularities attending his assumption of office. Not only was there no quorum in the Mexican congress when Madero's resignation was presented according to official reports

Nature Not Disclosed by Either Official; Huerta to Fight Rebels

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 26.—President Wilson's personal representative, John Lind, and Federico Gamboa, the Mexican minister of foreign affairs, are again exchanging notes on the subject of relations between the respective governments, notwithstanding the fact that Mr. Lind has already left the capital and that President Wilson's other agent, William Bayard Hale, has planned to leave tomorrow.

Senor Gamboa's note, which he says is in reply to one he received from the American envoy, was sent to Mr. Lind at Vera Cruz tonight. The Mexican foreign minister is reticent as to the character of the exchange [illegible]. Officially it is said they [illegible] the situation. It is believed that [illegible] the part of Mexico that President Wilson delay the reading of his message to congress in order that the Mexican government might prepare for simultaneous publicity of a portion or all the documents in the case.

Hale May Leave Today.

The government understands that Mr. Lind will leave Vera Cruz for the United States Thursday. Mr. Hale's instructions are to leave here tomorrow and sail on Thursday.

That Mr. Lind left the capital perhaps a day or two before Washington expected him to do so, is indicated by the arrival here of W. W. Canada, consul at Vera Cruz, on orders from the state department to meet and accompany Mr. Lind to Vera Cruz.

The envoy had already left, however, when Consul Canada reached Mexico City.

Mr. Lind made the trip to Vera Cruz in an ordinary day coach in the absence of the train with a private car which had been proffered by President Huerta. Senor Gamboa was told that the officials at Washington appeared to believe that Mr. Lind's return to the Mexican capital was not improbable.

Lind Welcome to Remain.

Mr. Lind will be entirely welcome in Mexico, should he wish to return, according to the minister.

COMMERCIAL BANKS CANNOT SERVE THE FARMER; MUST ESTABLISH RURAL CREDITS

American Farmers Far Behind Those of Europe Through Lack of Cooperation

With the declaration that the banking system of the United States is designated for the special benefit of commerce and discriminates against agriculture, Gordon Jones, president of the United States National bank of Denver, speaking for Senator [illegible] Fletcher of Florida, who was unable to come to Colorado Springs yesterday, urged before the House of Governors the introduction into the United States of a cooperative system of rural credits akin to systems employed in Europe.

Mr. Jones is vice chairman of the committee [illegible] of the American commission on agricultural cooperation, which returned to the United States July 26 after a three months' study of European systems of rural credits. Although he did not make the trip to Europe, Senator Fletcher was chairman of the commission. Owing to congress being in session the senator found it impossible to come to Colorado Springs to deliver his address and asked Mr. Jones to do so for him.

Paper Arouses Much Interest

Much interest was manifested in the paper, and discussion [illegible] Time and again several [illegible] ors, especially [illegible] Mann of Virginia [illegible] hams and former Governor Adams of Colorado [illegible] string of questions at the speaker to more clearly bring out some point taken either in Senator Fletcher's paper or in Mr. Jones' statements.

Mr. Jones' speech summarized in a very brief manner the findings of the American commission [illegible] the report [illegible] committee on cooperation, of which Gov. [illegible] O'Neal of Alabama is chairman. [illegible] O'Neal made [illegible] report, saying the committee was not ready to [illegible] with the [illegible] in favor of establishing a system of rural credits, he said, but they [illegible] not prepare a bill which they would advise the various states to adopt.

Governors Will Present Report.

"Before the present session is over," the executive stated, "we will present [illegible] report [illegible] those matters which we believe should be included in a bill establishing rural credits. At this time we consider it impracticable to present to the House of Governors our report in the form of a bill. Instead we wish the question [illegible] thrown open to discussion that [illegible] here may express his [illegible] on the matter."

NEW MOTOR LAW PUTS MEN ON THEIR HONOR

Secretary of State Pearce Says Payment of State Auto License Is Matter of Loyalty

That Colorado will get along as it can with the new motor license law until the next session of the legislature, and that then a "real" motor license law will be passed, is the outcome of the situation which the measure establishing state registration of automobiles has given rise to, in the opinion of Secretary of State James B. Pearce.

Mr. Pearce expressed this opinion last night at the Antlers hotel. With Mrs. Pearce, he came to Colorado Springs yesterday morning for the meeting of the house of governors. During the morning he paid a half-social, half-business visit to County Clerk E. C. Shelden, and discussed with him the operation of the new law, as it has come up locally. Then the secretary called at the Colorado Free Employment office and spent an hour visiting W. C. Daily and George W. Balster, the superintendent and [illegible], respectively, of the office.

[illegible] Employment Bureau Heads.

Mr. Pearce is high in his praise of the work of the Colorado Free Employment office is doing here, and [illegible] appreciation of Daily [illegible].

"Mr. Daily and Mr. Balster are [illegible] [illegible] every minute while I was there. They'll find work for 1,000 men this month, and if they had the men, they would find work for 2,000."

The [illegible] license law, Mr. Pearce [illegible] office of the [illegible] to make [illegible] and [illegible] it no money with which to hire [illegible]. Not one dollar of appropriation for the enforcement of the law was made by the bill. The taking out of the state licenses will, largely, be voluntary; as he puts it, it will be a question of loyalty to the state, of being a good fellow and paying the license fee for a good cause.

Fees [illegible].

The cost, he says, is good, for the money from the fees goes into the roads, half by way of the counties, and half by way of the state. The purpose to which the fees are devoted makes the tax unlike other taxes, for the streets and roads are public property, dedicated to the use of the public forever.

This, he said, is apart from the question of tourist travel. "Here, bringing the [illegible] again as good because the license money is to go to the upkeep of the roads, he referred to a statement made by the Indiana Automobile Manufacturers' association, that the first bad stretch of road they found after leaving Indianapolis was between this city and Denver, the other side of Palmer Lake.

Pearce himself says that the law has many defects. It is the work of the Denver Motor club, he says, and is modeled on the law in Pennsylvania. But, Pearce says, the Pennsylvania law is followed too closely in some ways, and not closely enough in others. As a result of following it too closely, the fact that it is an amendment to previous laws was lost sight of. That is why the appropriation provisions are lacking. In Pennsylvania the regulating of automobiles has for several years been handled by a state highway department. Colorado has yet to build up its institution for them.

Will Remedy All Defects.

The motor law which Pearce says will be passed by the next legislature will have to remedy all the defects of the present one. It will be a good law, and a real law, he says. It will be good even if the Pennsylvania measures are looked to more carefully, Pearce believes, although he himself favors following the Illinois measure.

The taking out of the state licenses has been general in Denver, he says. There, out of about 4,500 automobiles, about 4,300 have registered with the state. The cooperation of the Denver police has helped in this. Up to the time he visited County Clerk Shelden's office yesterday, something more than 800 licenses had been taken out here, leaving a large minority still unregistered. He says that the cooperation of the police, the sheriffs and the constables all over the state will be necessary to the enforcement of the law.

Believes Law Would Be Upheld.

Mr. Pearce takes the stand that if ever the matter of the state and city licenses is brought to the courts, the state law will be upheld. But the office of the secretary of state will not take it to the courts. Pearce is too busy with the work in his own office. He has his own troubles to attend to, and cannot swing the attention of the office to the concern of some private citizen. But, eventually, he thinks, some citizen will take the matter of the state and city licenses to the courts, and then he agrees the state law will be upheld. This, he maintains, will be true even in the case of the charter-governed cities.

Mr. and Mrs. Pearce will remain in Colorado Springs for the conference today and tomorrow, and for the banquet tomorrow night. They will return to Denver [illegible].

HATFIELD CONDEMNS W. VA. MILITARY COURT

West Virginia Governor, Who Has Ended the Mine Strikes, Talks on Situation

"The military court of West Virginia during the coal miners' strikes was a terrible mistake, really an acknowledgement by the authorities that they could not handle the situation. I believe that all the troubles in the West Virginia coal mining sections, that attracted national attention and a congressional investigation, could have been avoided had the officials of the troublesome sections done their duty."

So said Governor Hatfield, West Virginia's state executive, who arrived yesterday to attend his first governors' conference. Governor Hatfield has been a governor but a few months, succeeding Governor Glasscock, and admits that he is a recruit at the conference.

Has No Pet Hobby.

"I have no pet hobby as to legislation that I would like to see the conference take up and I am here to absorb the good things as they come and enjoy this wonderful scenery," said the governor, a big, broad shouldered man, wearing the "colonel's hat," so typical of a southern statesman. He is one of the largest men at the conference.

Speaking of the mine situation in his state, Governor Hatfield said:

"Our troubles are practically over now. We have just succeeded in settling, by arbitration, a strike in the tinplate mills and our coal mine strikes have also been settled. The state is satisfied with the settlement, too.

Arbitration Successful.

"Our board of arbitration which settled the Paint creek and Cabin creek strikes consisted of two representatives from the miners, two from the mine owners and myself. Both sides realize that this is the only equitable method of settling the matter and hereafter arbitration, I believe, will solve our labor difficulties.

"The military court, which was so condemned for sentencing the miners to indeterminate sentences, was most unjust. I modified its findings as soon as possible. The situation was really one where local authorities were incapable to handle the situation. They could have prevented all of the trouble if they had taken firm stands and not try to straddle the fence and play to both sides. The truth of the situation could be discovered and they did not take the trouble to discover it. It cost the state a great deal of money that could have been saved had the authorities had the backbone to do what was right."

nois has recently passed a measure called the public roads law, which calls for an appropriation of $700,000 for roads, the counties to receive this and put up dollar for dollar.

"And you should see them going after it," said the governor.

Although he has succeeded in getting passed 11 out of 15 measures which he proposed in his inaugural address, his favorite is the public utilities commission.

"The demand of the control of our public utilities by states has become probably the predominant factor in state politics. Foreign countries have taken the lead in this matter and now 22 states have schemes for control. The municipal ownership question, so far advanced in foreign nations, has in America only included gas, electric light [illegible] we should cover the entire field, in fact, [illegible]."

[illegible]

Governor Dunne's hard fight came in his desire to have an intraurban commission to govern Chicago's utilities in addition to the state commission, but the part of the measure was defeated in the legislature. However, the governor is highly pleased with the [illegible] as it is.

Governor Dunne chatted on various subjects. Speaking of the Mexican situation the executive stated that he believed that the sentiment of the world will uphold the United States attitude toward Huerta.

"Any man who obtains credentials through assassination should not be recognized," he said.

He also spoke of woman suffrage, which he favors strongly, and of a government plan to prevent destruction by floods and convict roads.

Asked about the Sulzer situation in New York, he laughed and remarked, "That's a little out of my territory."

THRILLS HEARERS

ered the address of welcome in behalf of Colorado Springs. He said in part:

"We welcome you because of the greatness you have achieved in service of your commonwealth and the nation and we welcome you because we feel a special interest in the states which you represent. Ours is a cosmopolitan community. It is composed of native sons and daughters from every state and territory over which your flag floats in sovereignty. While loyal to the commonwealth of our adoption we love the state of our nativity, the [illegible] [illegible] with love and [illegible] of it with [illegible] them that [illegible] nations to respect and love it. [illegible] we [illegible] is to love the [illegible] of the other, and in this spirit of mutual sympathy we all join with each native son and daughter in welcoming you."

Governor Spry Makes Response.

Gov. William Spry of Utah responded in behalf of the conference or, as he put it, "in behalf of my brother governors and the real governors that some of us have brought with us." This brought quite a tribute of applause for the ladies. He said in part:

"We from the east can learn the bigness of the west. It is well that our eastern men should know more of this great west, its size, its resources, its ambitions and its struggles. We from the south can learn something of the enterprise of the west and although the south is noted for its hospitality, they may learn something of the great big heart of the west that is filled with generosity, for the westerner always has his latchstring outside the door. We of the north who are noted for our energy may learn something of the great enterprises of the west and the big things that we of the west are attempting more or less successfully. But we of the west feel that we will also benefit from this commingling of prominent men. We are young and we need more men, more money and more energy to help us develop this great country. On behalf of the conference I want to express thanks to the people of Colorado and particularly those of Colorado Springs for their magnificent hospitality and wholehearted welcome. They have made us truly feel that we are in the house of friends. The speakers who preceded me did not say anything about their great Colorado climate and they did not have to, for it is apparent to all. It is so perfect an atmosphere that the dullest cannot fail to be cognizant of it."

Asks Help for Struggling Settlers.

Secretary Lane was introduced by Governor Oddie. Hearty applause greeted the secretary, who quickly won his audience, and in a striking speech set forth his new policy as regards the public lands in the west controlled by the department of the interior.

"In my opinion it is the main duty of the United States government in its land department to help in any way it can the men and women who are making their homes in the west, reclaiming land in lonely districts far from railroads," said the secretary. "Sympathetic and just treatment toward these pioneers is needed, and anything the government can do to lighten their struggles should be gladly done. The fortitude, self sacrifice and devotion to duty of these desert settlers, especially the women, are things never to be forgotten.

"It [illegible] the faces of good and suffering [illegible] that set me to think [illegible] are the ones who rise early to get [illegible] and retire late at night, [illegible] and sensitive [illegible] for [illegible] things the deserts cannot give, [illegible] the struggle soon leaves its mark upon them."

Not an Evicting Landlord.

According to Secretary Lane, some of the settlers who took out 10-year water claims feel with considerable resentment that the government guaranteed their ability to pay out in 10 years. This was not the case, but so far as Secretary Lane is concerned, there will be no move on the part of his department to act the part of an evicting landlord in case settlers fail to pay up in 10 years. Personally, he is strongly in favor of increasing the time limit.

In his address, Secretary Lane referred to what he has observed in connection with his department during his western tour, and, in commenting on the immensity of the work carried on in the department of the interior, pointed out that the Indian problem alone, with its 310,000 Indians and $750,000,000 worth of property, was big enough to take the entire time of an able executive.

Land Business Cannot Stand Still.

"In our department," he said, "there are no less than 3,000 cases annually in the federal courts and the most of these directly affect the poor man who is struggling to make a home. I believe we should have all this mass of legal business taken care of by a separate and independent court that could devote its entire time to land decisions and by experience gain special knowledge of this department that it is impossible for the general federal courts to gain. The land business of the government cannot stand still. It is growing and is bound to grow to greater and greater proportions and it is in the west that this growth will take place.

"In the last 10 years the government has invested $80,000,000 in projects having for their purpose the reclamation of waste land and in the next 10 years the probability is that this sum will be duplicated."

Speaking of climate Secretary Lane paid this Colorado Springs a high compliment, remarking that in the interest of governmental efficiency, a summer capital in Colorado Springs would be of untold benefit to congress.

In conclusion, the secretary set forth the modern idea of the fundamental elements of right between man and man as follows:

Pleads for the Sons of Martha.

"I believe," he said, "that no man has the right to hold land, water, wealth or any other thing of a material kind that he cannot make use of. This principle is recognized in our courts in all water questions. Different people divide humanity into different classes but there is one division that we all will agree to. They are the Sons of Martha and the Sons of Mary, the Toilers and the Worshipers. The Sons of Martha are they who build our roads, span our rivers with bridges that you and I may ride comfortably in Pullman cars, raise our grain that we may have good bread on our tables and in a thousand ways toil and toil, for the betterment of mankind and the necessities of life. If [illegible] has a purpose it must be to give these Sons of Martha some portion of what they produce. I care nothing for political creeds or political traditions. Our government is made by a people ever advancing, ever achieving, ever reaching out to greater things and our government must change to meet the needs of the people in their march of progress.

"It is men that make governments—not forms or ceremonies or traditions—and its first purpose is to meet the [illegible] of the nation. Our flag may [illegible] float over a country [illegible] under our present form or with our present machinery. The machinery of government [illegible] for the [illegible]tie. It is the men and women that make the nation that count and if they remain sound at start and sound in mind and physique, they can be trusted to make a great nation whatever governmental institutions may come or go in the course of time. We need the radical and we need the conservative but we have no need for the extremists at either end of the scale."

U. S. AND MEXICO

here, but the resignation was accomplished by duress.

Holds Huerta to Promise.

The Washington government's insistence that Huerta eliminate himself from the presidential race, if an election is held, is based upon his own promise, contained in official reports, that he would not be a candidate. It is not conceived by officials here that a fair election could be held in Mexico with Huerta in control of the electoral machinery, and underlying the American proposals has been the intimation that the Mexican congress, by its constitutional right, should soon designate a provisional president to conduct a free election.

Officials were not sanguine tonight that the Huerta government would withdraw its rejection of the American note and preparations were being made for the delivery of the special message by the president. Both houses had passed a resolution to meet in joint session at 1 o'clock tomorrow.

While administration officials regret that they were unsuccessful in bringing things to a definite point through the Lind negotiations, information, official or unofficial, indicates to them that the Huerta government cannot last much longer. With foreign governments supporting the American policy there is little hope, according to the official view here, for the Huerta government to obtain any funds abroad to pay its army or meet running expenses.

Policy of Noninterference.

The United States will preserve a policy of noninterference and nonrecognition while developments take their course. Officials are emphatic, however, in declaring they will insist on proper protection of foreigners and their interests, though they will urge foreigners to leave the trouble zone.

This was a day of [illegible] [illegible] a [illegible] of the [illegible] of the message, with the [illegible] that an eleventh hour [illegible] [illegible] a general [illegible] of [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] up to a late hour [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] but [illegible] was in touch with the White house [illegible] [illegible] the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] at any of the [illegible] negotiations.

LIND AND GAMBOA

[illegible] with Washington insisting that the administration is still strongly opposed to intervention, there still prevails here intense anxiety on the part of foreign residents as well as Mexicans. Trains for Vera Cruz today carried away many Americans and many more have planned to go tomorrow.

The following statement was issued at the foreign office tonight:

"In order to calm the natural anxiety of the public occasioned by the negotiations which have been carried on with Mr. Lind, the confidential agent of President Wilson, Senor Gamboa declares that up to the present there is no reason for alarm.

Mexico in Conciliatory Mood.

"Since the beginning, Mexico has tried to maintain a conciliatory attitude, although at the same time a dignified one, and if the president of the United States considers it opportune to submit to congress the status of the negotiations, then Mexico is relieved from the tacit agreement and from the customs observed in negotiations of this class, not to give premature publicity, and will hasten then, and only then, to make public in their entirety all the documents which have been received or which may be received at that date.

"The situation is far from being desperate. It can only be called serious, and for this reason it is desirable that the public should be discreet and reserved, since this is the best manner in which it can aid the government."

Lind Strongly Guarded.

VERA CRUZ, Aug. 26.—Attended by 24 secret service men, Mr. Lind, President Wilson's envoy, arrived here from the Mexican capital at 7:30 o'clock this evening. He was accompanied by Mrs. Lind.

Rear Admiral Frank F. Fletcher, commanding the second division of the United States Atlantic fleet, and a representative of the American consulate met him at the terminal station. It is expected that after a brief rest Mr. Lind will go aboard the battleship Louisiana and get into communication with Washington by wireless.

It is believed here that Mr. Lind's mission is ended and that General Trevino's sudden call to Mexico City means that he will soon assume the presidency, General Huerta taking command in the field against the rebels.

'WE'LL GET THAW'

get him in the outcome, but this tangle must be straightened out first."

Further to complicate matters, counsel representing the state of New York are not sure that the commitment under which Thaw has chosen to remain in jail contains a charge of violating any of the Dominion's laws. It is more of being a "fugitive from the Matteawan asylum, where he was confined on a criminal charge for life."

Hector Verret, K. C., representing New York state, said tonight he regarded the withdrawal of the writ on Thaw's behalf as their admission by his lawyers that the commitment was legal, and did contain a charge on which Thaw could be brought into court. "Then we might get out another commitment charging some other offense," he added. "We could bring him into court on that, surely. There would still remain, however, Thaw's right to choose trial before the king's bench in October."

Sheriff Expresses Disgust.

Mr. Jerome and District Attorney Conger were at dinner when Thaw's counsel made known their decision. They had been hoping, like others drawn hither by duty, that tomorrow would see a sweeping away of some of the legal cobwebs and the beginning of a fight in the open, prefacing a hearing before the immigration authorities and Thaw's probable deportation to Vermont.

The news spread quickly through the hotel corridors. Sheriff Hornbeck of Dutchess county, who is particularly anxious to get home, expressed his great disgust. The handcuffs and leg irons he brought with him have proved only a burden and he has been roaming about town for a week waiting for something to turn up.

Thaw's lawyers, headed by J. N. Greenshields, K. C., of Montreal, were grimly jubilant. They had conferred all afternoon before reaching a decision and were mightily pleased at the apparent enigma they have created for the opposition.

GIVEN ARMS, CARRANZA PROMISES TO RID MEXICO OF HUERTA RULE

Envoys on Way to Washington to Lay Proposition Before President Wilson

HOUSTON, Tex., Aug. 26.—Given [illegible] authority to buy [illegible] of war in the United States, the [illegible] [illegible] President [illegible] power, establish [illegible] guarantee foreigners, hold a free and fair election and reestablish Mexico firmly in cordial relations with the United States, according to a statement from Gen. Jesus Carranza which Dr. Henry Allen Tupper and Captain J. T. Armstrong [illegible] are carrying to [illegible].

Dr. Tupper and Captain Armstrong passed through Houston tonight, and while here made public the statement of General Carranza, who is a brother of the Constitutionalist commander-in-chief. They were commissioned by the peace forum to confer with Constitutionalist leaders in an effort to devise possible peace measures.

Carranza's Statement.

Gen. Jesus Carranza's statement follows:

"As it is only by force of arms that the Constitutionalists can honorably compel the usurper, Victoriano Huerta, to relinquish the power unlawfully obtained by him by treason and [illegible] repellant to the entire civilized world, the Constitutionalists herewith summarize the conditions by which they can in a short time realize their aspirations:

"First—That the American government permit both parties in conflict the right to introduce arms and all other munitions of warfare and the Constitutionalists will be able to overthrow the usurper's government in the near future.

Would Assume Responsibilities.

"Second—We will not deny any responsibility within the terms of justice, any obligation which we have or may contract. Further, and within the limit of international rights, we will not omit any effort to protect the lives and property of all foreigners, and we will indemnify them for any losses which they may suffer due to the direct effects of the war. In this connection, a decree already has been issued.

"Third—As we are sure that the United States, with its high sense of justice, its democratic conception of what is due a nation's honor and integrity, with a view of making this government one of stability, would not refrain from granting us the same rights and privileges granted our enemies, we do not hesitate to affirm that [illegible] [illegible] protect in all [illegible] of our mutual interests.

Free Ballot [illegible].

"Fourth—In order that the republic may reestablish a constitutional government, it is [illegible] [illegible] the present [illegible] as the [illegible] the people will [illegible] the government will guarantee to the people the right to name their executive officers by a free and independent ballot, and there will be put into existence at that time and forever in the future, a government for the people, by the people and of the people, as is provided in our present constitution."

The statement which Dr. Tupper will deliver to President Wilson is dated at Piedras Negras, headquarters of the Constitutionalists, August 19.

Dr. Tupper and Captain Armstrong continued their journey to Washington late tonight.

[illegible] and several others [illegible] first addresses on the subject, while [illegible] house [illegible] Mr. Jones. Governor Mann expressed himself as [illegible] being in favor of establishing strictly [illegible] credit banks, rather rural banks [illegible] the rural credit feature.

The [illegible] of the House of Governors [illegible] yesterday [illegible] in the Burns theater with addresses of welcome by Gov. Elias M. Ammons of Colorado and Mayor C. L. McKesson of Colorado Springs and response by Gov. William Spry of Utah. Franklin K. Lane, secretary of the interior, who is representing the United States government at the sessions, delivered the principal address of the morning, talking on economic conditions in the west.

Reception Last Night.

Governor and Mrs. Elias M. Ammons, as official host and hostess, tendered a reception to the governors and their staffs last night at the Antlers. The affair was the most brilliant social event that will be given during the stay here of the governors.

Owing to the inability of Gov. Simeon E. Baldwin of Connecticut to appear on the program Saturday morning, the entire program of the conference has been somewhat disarranged. Governor Baldwin's address on "State Assumption of Nomination and Election Expenses" may be given today, although nothing definite has been arranged. The morning session will be devoted to an address on "A State Department of Efficiency and Economy" by Gov. Ernest Lister of Washington.

On Mt. Manitou Today.

At noon the governors will be the guests of N. N. Brumback of the Mt. Manitou Scenic Incline Railway company on a trip to Mt. Manitou park, where a beefsteak dinner will be served. The afternoon session may be held in the park. During the latter part of the afternoon the governors will attend the All-States picnic in Mansions park, Manitou, where each will be the guest of his state society.

An executive session will be held tonight at the Antlers, at which the executive committee for 1913-14 will be appointed and the budget for the ensuing year will be arranged.

Senator Fletcher's paper yesterday afternoon on rural credits pointed out as the greatest weakness of the banking system of the United States, so far as it affects farmers, the immobility of farm credits and the lack of cooperation among the farmers.

"It seems quite well established that economic evolution has made organization a necessity to farmers. Cooperation is suggested as a form of organization which would secure for them at once the highest business efficiency and the greatest social strength," he said.

Would Improve Credit Facilities.

"Cooperative organizations should be formed with a view, first, to improving their credit facilities, secondly to increasing their control over the marketing of crops and to strengthening their position as buyers and sellers, and thirdly, to establishing a channel whereby educational propaganda and work for the improvement of country life conditions may be effectively brought to the individual and his cooperation and participation in that work secured.

"Credit is the keystone of the organization proposed. American farmers possess potential credit of vast amount. The task is to discover a plan whereby that credit may be made cheaply and easily available.

"The most highly developed systems of short-time agricultural credit institutions are found in Germany. They are in the form of a pyramid composed of local cooperative credit societies, central societies operating generally over a province or administrative district and a main central society, as the apex, at Berlin.

"Every farmer joining a local society assumes liability for its debts. In other words, he signs over his credit to the society, and with this collective liability or credit as security the society contracts loans and solicits savings deposits. The officers of the society are so chosen that one set or board keeps check on the other. The general management of the affairs of the society are left in the hands of the general assembly of all members.

"No matter what stock membership a member may have he is entitled to only one vote. His stock ownership is generally limited to a small amount.

Evils of Farm Mortgages.

"The worst feature of the farm mortgage in this country is in its individual character. Life insurance companies control practically the only source of money to which the farmer may turn in disposing of his mortgage besides the individual lender or his direct agent. The individual lender controls the market. Therefore American farmers today are paying one rate of interest in one state and another elsewhere.

"The effect of the European system is to break all connection between the mortagor and the mortgagee. An institution is established which appraises the land of farmers desiring mortgage loans. The loans are granted by such institution, which retains the mortgage. Then mortgage bonds secured by the mortgages, but as the direct obligation of the institutions, are issued. No one bond is secured by one mortgage, but each bond is a lien against all of the mortgages.

Such a system reduces interest rates, makes the amount upon the [illegible] with [illegible] income, [illegible] and [illegible] an advance in [illegible] rates. It changes a [illegible] debt to an [illegible] form of credit [illegible].

[illegible]

"Permit me to say further, individually, that in my judgment our rural population needs a financial plan or system separate and distinct from a commercial banking system, to meet their requirements.

"I have contended all along that our present banking and currency system is framed to serve commerce and the industries other than agriculture. For 50 years it has discriminated against agriculture.

"I would prefer to go on with that subject now while the banking and currency bill is up, but the president is doubtless right, in the circumstances, in advising that it go over until the regular session next winter."

There has been no meeting of the commission since its return. November 18 has been fixed for a general assembly of the members in Washington to review the work of the compilers and formulate a report.

NEW CHEMISTRY TEACHER SENDS IN RESIGNATION

M. V. Flaherty, who was this summer elected to teach chemistry in the Colorado Springs High school, yesterday wired his resignation to the school board from Rochester, N. Y. A nervous breakdown, necessitating a year's rest, is given as the reason for his resignation.

No one to take Mr. Flaherty's place has yet been secured. He was to have succeeded J. M. Kelso, who resigned this spring and left for California.

Texans Will Be in Shan Kive Parade

All residents of Texas now in Colorado Springs or the Pikes Peak region are requested to get together to make a big showing from the Lone Star state next Tuesday noon at the opening of the Shan Kive. Texans owning automobiles, as well as those who do not, are asked to assemble on Cascade avenue below the Antlers hotel, at 11:30 o'clock that morning. Plans are being perfected for a parade of Texans in decorated automobiles and floats.

Tan, Red or Freckled Skin Is Easily Shed

To free your summer-soiled skin of its oiliness, muddiness, freckles, blotches or tan, the best thing to do is to free yourself of the skin itself. This is easily accomplished by the use of ordinary mercolized wax, which can be had at any drug store. Use at night as you use cold cream, washing it off in the morning. Immediately the offending surface skin begins to come off in fine powder-like particles. Gradually the entire cuticle is absorbed, without pain or inconvenience. The second layer of skin now in evidence presents a spotless whiteness and sparkling beauty obtainable in no other way I've ever heard of.

If the heat tends to loosen and wrinkle your skin, there's an effective and harmless remedy you can readily make at home. Just let an ounce of powdered saxolite dissolve in a half-pint witch hazel and bathe your face in the liquid. This at once tightens the skin and smooths out the lines, making you look years younger.—Emma Coulson in Popular Monthly. Adv.

GOV. AND MRS. AMMONS ENTERTAIN FOR VISITING GOVERNORS OF UNITED STATES

Elaborate Reception and Ball at Antlers Are Noteworthy in Our Social History

THE most noteworthy social function that has ever taken place in Colorado Springs occurred last night at the Antlers hotel, when Gov. and Mrs. Elias M. Ammons presided over a formal reception and ball tendered by the state of Colorado to the governors of the United states and their guests.

The drawing room of the hotel was elaborately decorated with national flags, palms and ferns, and there Governor and Mrs. Ammons, assisted by prominent men and women of the state and of the city, received their guests, and there the general public welcomed the opportunity to meet the chief executive of Colorado, as well as the governors of other states.

Included in the receiving line were ex-Governor and Mrs. Alva Adams of Pueblo, Lieutenant Governor and Mrs. S. R. Fitzgerald, Secretary of State and Mrs. J. B. Pearce, State Treasurer M. A. Leddy, Attorney General and Mrs. Rhoady Kenehan, Superintendent of Public Instruction Mrs. Mary C. C. Bradford, Adjutant General and Mrs. John Chase, Mayor and Mrs. C. L. McKesson of this city, Mr. Frank Perkins, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and Mrs. Perkins; Mr. and Mrs. Irving Howbert, Dr. and Mrs. A. C. Magruder, Mrs. F. W. Goddard and Mr. Wilmer Hemming.

Brilliant Scene in Ballroom.

Following the reception, at about half after nine o'clock, the guests went down to the ballroom to dance until [illegible]. Part of [illegible], the first few [illegible], and they even tell me that one of the governors to be exact, Governor Oddie himself [illegible] in a [illegible] of the [illegible]. The dance [illegible], which were used as favors, were white booklets tied with purple cords, and embossed upon each cover was the seal of the state of Colorado and the year "1913" in purple and gold. Pink's orchestra never played better than it did last night from behind the screen of palms in the Antlers ballroom. The balcony was massed with spectators, and all about the corridors there wandered groups of those who preferred not to dance.

And there were stunning gowns, many of them worn by our own smart set, who dined at the Antlers before the reception and afterwards made charming hostesses for the city as they entertained the visitors. And these lovely gowns of charming women, against the sombre background of the men's evening dress, with here and there the brilliant full dress uniform, all gold and lace and tassels, of the army officers and the governors' aides, formed a very attractive picture in the ballroom. National flags and those of the various states lent an air of dignity to the scene, for somehow they reminded one that here was a gathering of men who held, to a great extent, the reins of our government—and of women who doubtless guide the destinies of our states by means of those same reins.

Elaborate Dinner Parties.

Several smart dinner parties were given before the ball. Mrs. F. W. Goddard entertained for Governor and Mrs. Dix, her other guests being Mrs. Franklin Bartlett, Mrs. Harvey Jackson of Albany, N. Y.; Governor Miller of Delaware, whose wife is secretary of the National Society of Colonial Dames; Governor Oddie of Nevada, Major Turner of New York, former Governor Herbert Hagerman of New Mexico, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Alan Arthur, Major and Mrs. Charles T. Lowndes, Miss Schofield of Tuxedo Park, N. Y.; Miss Holmes and Mr. Joel Addison Hayes.

Mrs. James T. Anderson presided over another dinner of exquisite appointments for Mr. and Mrs. Robert Walsh of Sheridan. Covers were laid for the honor guests, for Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Penrose, Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. MacNeill, Mr. and Mrs. Ashton Potter, Mrs. Hugh McMillan, Mrs. Hare Lippincott, Mr. Fred L. Sherwin, Mr. Horace K. Devereux, Captain Long and Captain Scott of Fort Robinson.

There were several other smaller dinners. Mr. and Mrs. Guy Waggoner of Kansas City had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. William S. Dunning and Mr. and Mrs. Bencien of Fort Worth, Tex. Mrs. Martin entertained a party of four, and Mr. Darby, who is a guest at the hotel, had a party of eight.

Among the Guests.

Mrs. Ammons was very lovely last night as she received her guests. She wore a white lace robe of a very elaborate pattern, with trimmings of crystal. Her daughter, Miss Bessie Ammons, was perfectly charming in a very simple little dancing dress of fine white lace over white satin.

Mrs. Carey, wife of Governor Carey of Wyoming, wore a very handsome black satin gown with a bodice of crystal embroidered net; and a single red rose where the corsage met the draped skirt.

Mrs. Dix of New York was handsomely attired in a dull shade of blue charmeuse with an overdress of blue net studded with sapphire stones.

Mrs. Harvey Jackson of Albany, N. Y., who is known as the lady of the White house, was very handsome in a costume of [illegible] overdrape of chiffon brocaded with crystals and iridescent beads.

One of the most handsome groups included Governor and Mrs. O'Neale of Alabama. Mrs. O'Neale made a stunning picture in [illegible] blue, veiled with gold lace. Slippers of gold cloth and a white picture hat completed her costume. Miss O'Neale, who won the hearts of everyone with her appealing girlishness and [illegible] dearness, wore soft white lace with a short little peplum overskirt of [illegible] satin.

Mrs. Mann of Virginia chose white satin with gold lace and golden fringe for her very becoming gown.

Mrs. Hodges of Kansas was very becomingly gowned, too, in white satin, with silver chiffon, through which were glimpsed insets of pink charmeuse.

Mrs. S. V. Stewart's gown was of white lace over pink satin, with pink roses catching the filmy lace here and there.

Miss Dunne, who accompanied her father, Governor Dunne of Illinois, to the conference, was very charming in a white dancing dress with draped sash of brilliant green.

Mrs. Haines, whose husband is governor of Maine, wore a beautiful blue satin robe with a bodice of gold lace.

Mrs. Spry of Utah was stunning in black satin and jet, with white lace draped to form the bodice and tiny sleeves.

Mrs. Shafroth, wife of Senator Shafroth of Colorado, wore white lace over blue satin, with trimmings of pearls.

Mrs. Mary C. C. Bradford, who assisted Mrs. Ammons in receiving, wore white satin and lace, and Mrs. McKesson of the Springs wore a dainty gown of white shadow lace flounces, with yellow crepe de chine overdress.

One of the most attractive figures was Miss Helen Ware, the noted actress, who monopolized the attention of Johanna Hobbs and Lafayette Hughes, the polo'ists. She wore a yellow brocaded gown with a filmy scarf of orange.

Mrs. Fairchild, whose husband is Governor Ammons' secretary, wore a gown of purple satin, and her guest, Mrs. Schoenley of St. Louis, was most attractive in an apricot charmeuse draped in decided pannier effect.

Some Stunning Gowns.

More than a few of our own fashionable women wore all black, or nearly so, and very, very stunning they looked, too. Mrs. Ashton Potter was perhaps the most beautifully gowned woman in the ballroom. Her gown was a wonderful black jet that swung heavily about her tiny black slippers and which was hung from her shoulders by bands of jet that crossed a tiny bodice of white lace.

Mrs. James T. Anderson's gown was of black satin, too, with a bodice of gold lace and golden fringe over white lace and tulle. Mrs. Chester Alan Arthur wore gold embroidered net over black satin with a girdle of copper color.

Mrs. Hugh McMillan was superb in white. She is tall and stunning and her white brocaded satin gown, cut very low, the graceful white aigrette sweeping upward from a single jewel on her forehead, set off her beauty exquisitely. Little white slippers with jeweled heels of red completed the picture.

Mrs. Charles M. McNeill was very striking in a handsome gown of bright Nell rose, relieved by a bit of white lace. She wore an aigrette of the same brilliant hue in her hair and beautiful diamond necklace and bracelets.

Mrs. Turner Cooke was adorable last night in a very handsome but simple draped black brocaded skirt with white chiffon forming the low cut bodice and draped sleeves.

Mrs. Franklin Bartlett wore the black that is so becoming to her. Mrs. Goddard was in black [illegible] over white satin.

Mrs. Leonard E. Curtis's gown was of bright green draped over a bodice of beautiful white lace, which was outlined with crystals. A single red rose was at her belt.

Mrs. W. S. Dunning was very becomingly gowned in a beaded light green chiffon over white satin. She wore a corsage bouquet of white roses and valley lilies. Mrs. Guy Waggoner was as pretty as a picture in pink charmeuse with an overdress of chiffon brocaded in pompadour effect with iridescent beads and threads of gold. A cluster of purple orchids formed her corsage bouquet.

Mrs. Ralph O. Giddings wore pink satin with a crystal embroidered overdress of chiffon, while Mrs. William V. Mullin's gown was of dull blue satin draped over white, with a girdle and sash ends of dull purple.

The Potter Ball.

Mr. and Mrs. Ashton Potter always entertain most lavishly at their lovely Broadmoor home and tonight the elaborate ball which they are giving at El Pomar for their many friends who are visiting here for polo week will be even more beautiful than ever before if that is possible. One hundred and fifty of the smart set of Colorado Springs and Denver and all of the visiting governors with their families have been invited and the affair will be one of the most brilliant of the season.

The handsome grounds of El Pomar have been festooned and hung with myriads of colored lights and there will be dancing in the gardens as well as in the ballroom, which will be a garden in itself with banks of ferns and enormous clusters of pink roses. The hangings are all of pink velvet and with the exquisite gowns of fascinating women and gorgeous full dress uniforms of the visiting military men, the scene will be one of unusual beauty. Lohmann's full orchestra has been brought from Denver, and a midnight buffet supper will be served.

Numerous Box Parties.

The cumulative interest and enthusiasm concerning the midsummer fetes promises to reach fever heat by Saturday, when the first of the opera comedies, "The Little Princess," will make its bow behind the footlights of the Grand.

Arranging box parties is the fad of the hour, from polo to theater, and the younger set are all emulating their elders in planning congenial little parties for before and after the fetes. Mrs. L. P. Lawton, for her daughter, Miss Mary, will entertain at a dainty luncheon preceding the "Little Princess" matinee on Saturday, the guests later witnessing the performance. They will be Miss Persis Perkins, Miss Louise Allen, Miss Berthe Armit, Miss May Chase, Miss Frances Stevens and Miss Mary Lawton. They will have a double box, decorated with chrysanthemums and college pennants.

Another congenial box party will be made up of Cutler girls, Miss Louise Burgess being the moving spirit in arranging this pretty compliment to "The Little Princess." These young ladies are also particularly interested in the Children's Ward, and are glad of an opportunity to aid the cause. The party will include Miss Martha Clemans, Miss Lucile Fisher, Miss Frances Spencer, Miss Leah Gregg, Miss Maria Clemans, Miss Edith Walton and Miss Louise Burgess. They will be chaperoned by Mrs. J. W. Park and will use the Cutler pennants and colors of red and white in their box decoration.

[illegible] for Bride Elect.

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Berne H. Hopkins presided over a very attractive and prettily arranged reception and tea at her home on West Caramillo street in compliment to her sister, Miss Adelaide Morrison, who will be a September bride. More than one hundred friends of the honor guest and the hostess called during the reception hours and were welcomed by Mrs. Hopkins, Mrs. Morrison, Mrs. Fawcett and Miss Morrison.

A dainty color scheme of pink and white was carried out in all the beautiful decorations. Pink asters adorned the sun parlor, pink gladioli were used with stunning effect in the reception rooms and the dining room was a garden of lovely pink Killarney roses. Pink's orchestra played all during the afternoon.

Mrs. Hopkins was assisted in serving her guests by Mrs. Oliver H. Shoup, who presided over the punch bowl in the sun room, and by Mrs. Arthur C. H. Friedmann and Mrs. Arthur Gay Bingham, who served in the dining room assisted by Mrs. William V. Mullin, Mrs. J. Raymond Lowell and Miss Dora Fehringer.

Among the out-of-town guests who were present and who will remain in the Springs for all of the wedding festivities were Mrs. George B. Whipple of Canon City, Miss Virginia Estill, Miss Odette Whaite, Mrs. John Sydney Walker and the Misses Merrill and Rena Smith of Denver.

Bal Masque Boxes Are Selling Fast.

Even though practically everyone in the city is so keenly alive to the delights of polo just now no one is forgetting the mad revelry of the bal masque which Mr. Ralph Giddings and his corps of assistants are planning for Thursday evening of Shan Kive week. Last year the ball was a great success, and this year it promises to be even more enjoyable and to attract even more pleasure seekers than before.

Mr. Giddings has secured the services of several splendid professional dancers from the east, who will give exhibitions between the regular dances of the tango and other of the very latest rages—and, by the way, it is claimed that these new steps are very beautiful when rightly danced and that the graceful dancers the bal masque committee have secured will surely win numerous converts to what someone has called "a really representative American dance, at last something that will be to America what the national folk dances are to various European countries."

The list of box holders has been slightly revised and added to. Complete to date the list of those who will have boxes for the carnival includes Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. MacNeill, Mrs. F. W. Goddard, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Alan Arthur, Mr. and Mrs. Chaloner Schley, Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Penrose, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Today's Beauty Recipes

By Mme. D'Mille.

A complexion rivaling the lilies in purity naturally follows the use of a plain mayatone skin lotion, made by dissolving an original package mayatone in one-half pint witch hazel. This simple lotion applied to the face, neck and arms in the morning lasts throughout the day and overcomes the shiny greasy look caused by powder or creams. For tan, freckles and other complexion blemishes the mayatone lotion is unequaled and not only gives to the skin a velvety smoothness, but is actually invisible and is a fine protection for the complexion.

Superfluous hairs can be removed quickly and without pain or expense by the application of a delatone paste, which is prepared by mixing enough of the powdered delatone and water into a paste sufficient to thickly cover the objectionable hairs. This is to be applied and in two minutes rubbed off and the skin washed to remove the remaining paste. Every trace of hair vanishes by this simple treatment and the skin is left smooth, firm and spotless. No harm results from its use. Adv.

TICKET OFFICES MAY CLOSE HALF DAY MONDAY

A movement to close the local railway ticket offices at least a half day Labor day—probably in the morning—is on foot among the five city offices. On account of the heavy tourist business at that time it is hardly possible that the offices will close the entire day. Already the Rock Island and Colorado Midland have practically agreed to close and the other three are expected to do likewise.

What do you think of eastern El Paso County farms under modern methods now being instituted?

A trip to that country will convert any reasonable man as to its merits.

Dairying is proving to be a very profitable industry.

Congested conditions in our cities are such that the "back to the soil" movement must increase.

I have a 330-acre ranch, southeast of Calhan in the very heart of the farming district of the county.

It is all fenced and cross-fenced with good wire fencing, and on main traveled road.

There is a small two-room house, a number one barn of cement blocks, good chicken houses, good well with windmill, large groves of cottonwood, locust and evergreens, considerable fruit.

There are abut 100 acres in cultivation.

This farm is a money-maker.

Wyoming Irrigated Lands

Some people think that water is only good for bathing, but Colorado farmers know that it's very good for irrigation. We are agents for farm land in Wyoming near the prosperous town of Wheatland, about 75 miles north of Cheyenne. The soil is fine and we have real water in real ditches and abundance of it that goes with the land. These lands are selling from $35.00 to $50.00 per acre on very easy terms with only 6 per cent interest on deferred payments. There is no extra charge for water; you get a perpetual water right for the tract you buy, and you always get water when you need it. We can't tell you all about it here, but will be glad to explain the whole proposition if you will call on us. We have been over this part of the country and know what we are talking about. Now is a good time to go and see what has been done on these lands this year.

BAND TO WHOOP IT UP FOR SHAN KIVE SHOW

Post Aggregation Will Turn Out Saturday in Denver to Boost for Springs Carnival

Saturday evening, the Denver Post Boys' band is to spend two hours on a street car in Denver, whooping it up for the Shan Kive in this city the next week. The car will carry banners and red fire will be burned.

There is every reason to believe that Denver will send a large delegation down here next week, larger than ever before. In the first place, this is the only city in the state that has a low rate covering Labor day. There is a big interest growing up in Denver over the Marathon race to be run here that day from the Shan Kive camp through the Garden of the Gods. Thomas E. Fisher, general passenger agent of the Colorado & So[illegible] to H. T. Lowe yesterday [illegible] are arranging an excursion [illegible] here for the Shan Kive [illegible] the First Line [illegible] [illegible] city and return [illegible] This will [illegible] to [illegible] and see the [illegible] many of them will stay over for the [illegible] ball.

The first appearance of the Denver Post Boys band in this city will be at Tuesday morning, in the big parade which C. B. [illegible] is managing. This organization has never [illegible] at [illegible] Springs, and [illegible] at the chance. They have played at Cheyenne Frontier day many times, have been at Glenwood and Loveland and a lot of other places, but not here.

The band was organized in 906 and is composed of boys and girls from 6 to 18 years of age. They are not newsboys, but come from good homes in Denver. Many are employed in business houses of the city, and are of good character. The Post bought their instruments, as well as handsome red and white uniforms. H. Y. Lockwood is the manager of the band and Prof. Sidney Beal has been their director ever since they were organized.

The Shan Kive and other managers of entertainments who get the services of the band pay a small fee, and this goes into the general fund. There is an annual division of this fund, and it is about enough to pay the members who are docked when away from business for what they lose.

AGED WOMAN KILLED ON RAILROAD TRACKS

Susanna Ramirez, 70 Years Old, Run Down by Passenger

A Mexican woman, Susanna Ramirez, 70 years old, was struck and instantly killed by southbound Santa Fe passenger train No. 12, at Monument, 19 miles north of Colorado Springs, at 10:30 o'clock yesterday morning. Her body was hurled along a brick walk for a distance of about 100 feet, and lodged against the station platform. The engineer, however, seemed not to know of the accident, and did not stop the train.

Irwin Beyle, representing Coroner Lawrence Beyle, was summoned from Colorado Springs, and took charge of the body and brought it to this city. Inquiries he made yesterday failed to bring out many of the particulars of the accident, and the coroner will make a further investigation today.

Mrs. Baynes, an American woman, saw the accident, and says that Mrs. Ramirez walked out across the track in front of the engine. Beyle is at a loss to understand why she failed to see the train approaching, however, as there is a straight track at that point for a distance of a quarter of a mile.

Mrs. Ramirez was born in Old Mexico. A married daughter, Mrs. Gumesindo of Falcon, is at Monument.

The train which killed the woman was in charge of Engineer G. Lamont and Fireman W. G. Clark.

Perjury Charges to Be Filed Today

Charges of perjury, made from the bench in the county court Monday morning by Judge W. P. Kinney, have resulted in the drawing up of direct information by District Attorney M. W. Purcell against G. M. Boyles, R. E. Dale and C. E. Dale. The informations will be filed in the district court, and the bonds of the three men will be fixed at from $500 to $1,000.

The case in which the perjured testimony is charged is that of G. M. Boyles against Baron Haakon Von Schmidt, and the removal of the testimony which Judge Kinney has declared [illegible] for the [illegible] by attorneys [illegible] Kitty and C. H. Dudley. [illegible] a [illegible] note for [illegible] which the Dales claimed in the previous trial they sold to Boyles before maturity. Judge [illegible] says that the [illegible] did not take place until after the maturity of the note, and attorneys for the defense will introduce evidence tending to show that the [illegible] had paid more than the face of the note [illegible] to the [illegible] before the [illegible] sale.

BUFFALO BILL HERE TO CONFER WITH SEC. LANE

"Buffalo Bill" (Col. William F. Cody), came to Colorado Springs yesterday for an interview with Franklin K. Lane, secretary of the interior, in regard to government support for the great festival and last grand council of the Indians planned for Denver in 1915. He returned to Denver yesterday afternoon. In the interview with Secretary Lane, Colonel Cody urged him to help as far as possible in making the last grand council of the Indians a success. He predicted that the conclave of the redmen will be a historic event. Colonel Cody thinks that this city is not advertising enough the fact that the Shan Kive will be held in the Garden of the Gods. "No celebration ever had such a beautiful and appropriate natural setting," he said.

PRESIDENT WILSON'S ADMINISTRATION A FARCE, DECLARES GOVERNOR OF TEXAS

O. B. Colquitt Says American Citizens Are Not Receiving Protection in Mexico

That the Mexican situation is intolerable so far as Texas is concerned, is a mild way of putting Governor O. B. Colquitt's sentiments on the perennial disturbance that has been going on in the country south of the Lone Star state. Incidentally, in commenting on the situation, Governor Colquitt severely criticises President Wilson and Secretary of State Bryan, pointing out inconsistencies in President Wilson's policy of refusing to recognize Huerta when, at the same time, he allows Huerta, but not his opponents, to import rifles and ammunition.

"American women have been subjected to countless indignities and American citizens murdered," declared Governor Colquitt, yesterday. "Added to this, blackmail, ransom and pillage on every hand have made the situation in Mexico intolerable to us in Texas. My blood boils every time I think of conditions down there.

Criticises Wilson's Policy.

"Let me analyze the position of our government. Wilson has taken the high-handed position of noninterference in Mexico on the theory that she must settle her own troubles. He has refused to recognize an assassin as the head of a constitutional government. Perfectly right. But he has given Huerta repeated privilege to import rifles and ammunition into Mexico and has refused this right to the Constitutionalists or rebels against the Huerta government—the government of an assassin that he has refused to recognize. If Huerta tells him to play his next card what does it mean? It means that he will have to invade Mexico or stultify himself and his state department. He will have to fight or make a joke of his state department and a rag of his nation's honor.

Secretary Bryan has said that 'Jesus Christ never carried a sword,' and [illegible] Wilson has said that he will not allow the governor of Texas to force him into a war with Mexico. On my honor as a man I have never been able to get so much as a reply from Washington to my most reasonable request for information as to the government's policy and, moreover, I have never desired war with Mexico. But I am not so afraid of war that I prefer the outrage of our women and the [illegible] and murder of our men [illegible] if need be."

[illegible]

"Senator Fall has said in the senate that 100 American citizens have been murdered in Mexico. He would be [illegible] the truth if he said 1,000. Three men went into Mexico with their families carrying the assurance of protection from the United States government. What does the American government now say to them in their extremity? It says 'Get out of Mexico if you can with the skin on your backs and be thankful for that.' Mexican bandits and Mexican soldiers have said to our citizens, 'Pay us $75,000 in American gold and we will let you take your property away.' In lieu of this blood money they have stood our citizens up against a wall and shot them in cold blood. In view of these facts, can any honorable American citizen hold up his head when his government is mentioned in a foreign port?

"When I say that scores of American women have been outraged by Mexicans I speak the truth absolutely. I personally know of such instances in which the victims were acquaintances of mine or my personal friends. Texas has 900 miles of border on the Mexican frontier. It has been my business to protect Texas citizens from Mexican outrages and I have done so by a firm hand on every occasion. The difficulty has been that I have never been able to get any satisfaction from the federal government as to its policy. I got more satisfaction from President Taft than I do from President Wilson.

Orders Out Militia.

"I will illustrate what we are up against in Texas. Once [illegible] I received a message from Brownsville, which is right across the river from Matamoras, Mexico, to the effect that the rebel leader at Matamoras had issued the ultimatum that the Americans in Matamoras should pay [illegible] tribute before midnight or suffer the confiscation of their property and that the American consulate would be blown up. I confirmed the report and finally ordered, late that night, militia from adjacent towns to move to Brownsville at once. They were in motion in three hours. I notified the commander in Matamoras that the death of one Texan would be avenged. At 3 o'clock in the morning I received a message from Washington informing me that information had been received to the effect that I had ordered state militia into Matamoras (this was contrary to my order, which was that they should not go past Brownsville without my express order) and notifying me that federal troops had been ordered from a fort in south Texas to intercept my militia. If I had wanted to throw militia across the river they would have been there before the federal troops were out of their beds.

"This is only one of many instances we have had to deal with, but anyhow, Texans have not been murdered or robbed and so I feel that our hands are clean. But what of the honor of the federal government?

Declares Administration a Farce.

"I do not want to embarrass the Wilson administration. But the handling of the Mexican situation is a farce. Are our citizens not entitled to the protection of the flag? It is all right for us who are safe at home to fold our hands and say 'peace, peace', when there is no peace, but what of those people, just as good American citizens as we, who have been robbed, murdered, imprisoned, and outraged? Ask them what they think of the honor of the American government? Ask the outside world what it thinks of the honor of the American government?

"In the war of 1812 with England [illegible] Does our national honor mean nothing [illegible] days?

"I do not [illegible] that I will [illegible] the conference [illegible] on this subject. It is not on the program, and if I start I [illegible] so full of the subject that I might [illegible] too much. I will say one thing: Texas will take care of her own citizens in Mexico at all hazards and the United States can do as it pleases. But let the Mexicans keep their hands off our citizens and our women."

Arterberry Is Able to Leave Hospital

Willard Arterberry, who was injured by a street car at 10:45 o'clock Saturday night near the James Connor place, west of Adams crossing, was taken to his home yesterday morning from St. Francis hospital, where he had been since the night of the accident. Arterberry's condition has shown great improvement in the last two days, and yesterday morning was able to walk to the door of the hospital when he started to his home. He lives at Adams crossing.

Arterberry was told yesterday morning for the first time that his wife, Mrs. Leona Arterberry, 19 years old, was killed when he was injured. The news of the way in which she met her death was broken to him just before he left the hospital, for fear that it might cause a serious change for the worse in his condition. He was able, however, to continue his trip to his home.

The body of Mrs. Arterberry is still held at the undertaking rooms of Beyle Bros. No arrangements have been made for the funeral.

MRS. S. B. ANDERSON ILL

Critically ill, Mrs. S. B. Anderson of 328 East Bijou street, formerly Mrs. Eulah W. Cook, who was married July 24 last, is confined to Beth-El hospital. Little hope was held out yesterday for her recovery, but last night her condition gave slight encouragement. Mrs. Anderson was taken to the hospital last Sunday, and underwent an operation. She is attended by Dr. Lloyd Allen and Dr. L. H. McKinnie. Mrs. Anderson was formerly private secretary to J. Arthur Connell of the Colorado Title & Trust company.

LUNCHEON FOR OFFICIALS OF HIGHWAY ASSOCIATION

A luncheon was given at the Antlers hotel yesterday by the executive committee of the Colorado Good Roads association and the Chamber of Commerce, and good roads in general and the Lincoln highway in particular were informally discussed. Among those who attended the luncheon were the members of the Good Roads association committee; members of the committee on streets and highways of the Chamber of Commerce; Messrs. Joy, Fisher and Pardington, officials of the Lincoln Highway association; Messrs. Vander Horst and Taylor, officials of the National Highway association, and members of the Lincoln Highway association of Colorado.

WOMEN GRANTED DIVORCE ON NONSUPPORT GROUNDS

Two divorces were granted in the district court yesterday, and nonsupport figured as the reason in both cases, although one couple had been married nearly 24 years and the other not four. In the morning the case of Christina Olin against Dudley Olin was tried and Mrs. Olin granted a divorce. The couple were married October 22, 1889, in Billings, Mont. They have three children, Lester, 15 years old, James 5, and Curtis, 15 months, and Mrs. Olin was granted their custody. On the plea of nonsupport, she was granted all of the personal property which has been held by herself and her husband.

In the afternoon Mrs. Mayme Wigger was granted a divorce from Howard Wigger and was allowed to resume her maiden name of Mayme Marks. The couple were married in Colorado Springs, November 3, 1909. In support of her plea of nonsupport Mrs. Wigger testified that her husband spent [illegible] money in drinking and [illegible] of this money, she said.

Big plans are being laid for the luncheon to be given in honor of Gov. O. B. Colquitt at the Antlers tomorrow noon. All Texas people are invited to be present. Tickets may be had for $1.50 from W. D. Hemming at the El Paso National bank. Among those already planning to attend are Paul Waples, Royal A. Ferris, Gov. Wagner of Fort Worth, J. A. Kemp and Frank Kell of Wichita Falls, J. W. Mitchell of this city, State Senator Hanger and E. A. Swenson, who will supply information to any Texans any time at the Antlers hotel.

Letter Carriers May Join A. F. of L. Ranks

The question of affiliating the National Letter Carriers association with the American Federation of Labor, which is expected to come up before the letter carriers' meeting in San Francisco, August 29, will undoubtedly precipitate a sharp fight, according to mail carriers from Texas, Chicago and Oklahoma, who are visiting in the city on their way to the meeting.

Two cars of letter carriers from Chicago arrived [illegible] night after [illegible] trips. Two cars from Texas and one from Pittsburg were also here yesterday, but the New York train did not stop.

According to delegates stopping off here, E. J. Cantwell of Brooklyn, who has been secretary of the association for 15 years, probably will not be a candidate for reelection.

Gov. Dix Comments on Sluzer-Glynn Affair

That the Sulzer case in New York will be tried strictly on its merits is the belief of ex-Governor Dix of New York, who characterizes the Sulzer-Glynn squabble as the most "humiliating situation in the history of New York state."

"We have an admirable court of appeals and in this impeachment trial the evidence and the evidence alone will be allowed, if I know my men," says Governor Dix. "How it will result I can't say, but I can at least vouch for the unparalleled bitterness of the present struggle there."

Governor Dix is the guest here of Chester Alan Arthur and is well acquainted with many members of the conference.

CHARGED WITH THEFT

Cosetta Parker, colored, was arrested yesterday, charged with stealing $45 from a Mrs. Goins, who has been staying at a house on East Cucharas street. She is held at the county jail. The money, which had been kept in the lining of a handbag, was missed [illegible] day morning. The Parker woman, the police say, was the only one besides Mrs. Goins who knew the money was in the bag. When the Parker woman was searched, the money was found, and two diamond rings were found in a chamois bag concealed in her clothing. She refuses to tell where she got the rings.

WILL ASK GOVERNORS TO SUPPORT HIGHWAY

Officials of Lincoln Highway Association Are Here to Request Support and Cooperation

An appeal to the governors attending the conference here to support the Lincoln highway project will be made this week, according to President H. B. [illegible]

"All we [illegible] hope that [illegible] will be so [illegible] that it will be generally accepted as the [illegible] sensible solution of what is a complex problem. As a matter of fact, whether this or that city is on the route line is a matter of comparatively little importance.

[illegible] contributions to the highway fund total [illegible] none of them will be on the main transcontinental line, yet they will be on it to all intents and purposes, because once it is constructed they will be connected with it by branch roads, just as will hundreds of other cities and points of interest. The main thing is to select a route that meets all the requirements of such a highway in the largest degree possible."

The direct object of the visit here at this time of these officials is to take up with the governors in conference [illegible] the matter of joint state effort in the construction of the Lincoln highway, and, while [illegible] particularly [illegible] in [illegible] the support of the governors of a number of the western states, the cooperation of the executives of all the [illegible] as well as [illegible] of the national character of the project.

SHERIDAN TEAM SLAUGHTERS DENVER COUNTRY CLUB; FINAL FOR KEENE CUP TODAY AT 2:30

Double Header Today; One Game Yesterday Owing to Keene's Injuries; Game Has Won Place in Region

With the completion of today's games between the Cheyenne Mountain Country club and the Denver Prairie Dogs and between the Twelfth Cavalry and the Sheridan Polo ranch, the tournament conducted by the Cheyenne Mountain club will be half over.

Never before has the public taken to an event as to the revival tournament, that will place polo as one of the foremost sports in the state. The tournament is one of the greatest, if not the greatest ever conducted in the West, and in addition to attracting from all over the country [illegible] wonderful players.

[illegible] to Colorado Springs fans has been the sterling play of Dr. G. H. Webb, who, it is said by good authority, if he would devote his time to playing polo, [illegible] the United States championship team.

Bullinger's hard play is shown by the fact that he broke a half dozen mallets during the game.

Walsh Plays Star Game.

Walsh started during the second half, shooting four of six goals. His specialty seemed in hooking the willow from the scrimmage, tapping it to a teammate and rushing forward and taking the ball. Moncrief's offensive play, especially his hard drives, were apparent in the latter part of the game.

The teams line up as follows:

M'LOUGHLIN IS TENNIS CHAMP

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 26.—The [illegible] tennis championship record for 1913 was practically completed on the Casino ground [illegible] today when Maurice E. McLoughlin of San Francisco successfully defended his own title in singles and maintained the Pacific coast supremacy by defeating R. Norris Williams II of Philadelphia in the finals of the all-comers tournament, in a well-fought four-set match.

The scores were 6-4, 5-7, 6-3, 6-1. As McLoughlin and T. C. Bundy of Los Angeles won their second championship in doubles last week, and Miss Mary Browne of Los Angeles is still the women's title holder, the ascendancy of California in the principal departments of tennis is assured for another year.

Williams gave McLoughlin the hardest match since the pair landed from their successful quest for the Davis cup, because, as the Californian said after the contest, Williams knew his game from three months of almost constant practice.

MEDICAL INSPECTION

"No educational movement in modern time has had more vital relations to the children, to the homes they represent, and to the nation, than medical supervision of school children and the general hygienic movement it typifies," says Dr. P. P. Claxton, United States commissioner of education, in a bulletin on medical inspection just issued for free distribution by the bureau.

The bulletin is an "annotated bibliography" of medical inspection literature during the past four years. It was compiled in the division of school hygiene and sanitation. It shows health conditions among school children in a number of different localities, thus making possible for one community to find out readily what another community similarly situated has accomplished in solving health problems in the schools. The most significant reports that have been presented for various typical localities are summarized for reference.

Among the topics treated are: Medical inspection of the eyes, ear, nose, and throat; dental clinics, training of school nurses; salaries of school medical inspectors, medical inspection records, etc.

In his introduction Dr. Claxton points out that "although the work of medical inspection began in the United States less than 20 years ago, we are now in the midst of the most rapid development of this part of the public educational service."

Comstock's major league debut was far more impressive than the score would indicate. Man after man—eight in all—struck vainly at his elusive spitball. In the first four innings he struck out six men after his teammates' misplays helped to place runners on the bases.

Anderson baffled Detroit for two innings, but the Tigers found him for five hits and five runs in the third, and Moseley replaced him. He was invincible until the seventh, when Bush secured his fourth hit, a triple, and scored on Cobb's single.

YOUNG DEATH NOT INTENDED, JURY VERDICT

BUT DISTRICT ATTORNEY WILL PROSECUTE

Bout Termed Prizefight and Scrappers Flee to East for Safety

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 26.—The death of John (Bull) Young was caused "unintentionally by Jess Willard," according to the verdict of a coroner's jury, rendered late today. The death was caused, the verdict read, by "concussion of the brain due to a blow on the chin delivered by Jess Willard."

The prosecution had announced that the coroner's verdict would not alter the manslaughter charges against Willard and 11 others as a result of the fatal fight last week at the Vernon arena.

The bout was referred to as a "prize fight" in the verdict. This will be an important point in favor of the prosecution, according to W. J. [illegible], assistant district attorney, who has charge of the case.

"Prize fighting," he said, "is illegal in California, although 'boxing' is permitted."

Springs Golfers at Denver Today Play State Championship

Springs golfers will clash with Denver players today in the [illegible] of the [illegible] Country club [illegible] state golf tourney. A strong team of players from the Colorado Springs Golf club left [illegible] for Denver.

[illegible] the [illegible] selected by the [illegible] Golf club, [illegible] the following players for the [illegible]: W. K. Jewett, Percy Hagerman, J. F. Hubbell, O. D. Hemming, J. W. [illegible], Jack DeWitt, L. R. Munger, S. J. White, William O'Brian, Gordon Stephens, E. J. Ullrich, R. E. Gedney, J. W. Reid, H. D. Young and A. C. Wilson.

With only a few exceptions, the team includes the pick of the local golfing talent. Jewett has been playing the best golf in the Springs this summer, and only a week ago equaled par (75) on the local course. Hubbell, Hagerman and Hemming have been playing a strong game. Broad, a visitor here, is considered one of the best match players in Texas, where he is rated at scratch. Last year he qualified in the western amateur tournament, which was held in Denver. Stephens is at the top of his game.

A number of the Springs players are entered in the championship.

Although he has used his motorcycle on his route only a short time, Mail Carrier James Ford of Hartford City, Ind., has become such an expert that he says he can save at least one half of the time formerly required to deliver his mail.

A motorcycle honeymoon is planned by Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Greenbelg of Des Moines, Ia. They expect to visit Yellowstone National park.

With camping outfit and fishing tackle attached to the rear of their motorcycles, Asa Harris and James E. Baldwin of Newark, N. J., have started on a 10-day vacation tour through New Jersey, Pennsylvania and New York.

A motorcycle tour through Jamaica and Porto Rico is planned by the Rev. George W. Phillips, an enthusiastic rider of Hamilton, O.

AN EXAMPLE FOR LOCAL CAPITALISTS

THE sale of the property of the Manitou Mineral Springs Company, including the bathhouse, bottling works and three soda springs adjacent, is the best thing that has happened to Manitou for many, many years. For it means development, and Manitou needs development more than it needs anything else.

To say that Manitou table water is the best product of its kind on the market is not a mere local boast; it is a fact attested by everybody who is well-informed on this subject. It is the only [illegible] water which is charged with its own gas, and [illegible] everywhere prefer it to the [illegible] known [illegible] inferior brands. Yet the [illegible] Manitou water is almost exclusively [illegible] it is [illegible] to be had in outside [illegible]

[illegible]

Incidentally, Mr. Shoup and Mr. Hop[illegible], who [illegible] the new company, have set [illegible] example which might well be followed by other local capitalists. The [illegible] [illegible] has not caused them [illegible] to [illegible] a recognition of a fact which every other [illegible] to have overlooked, namely, that [illegible] opportunities [illegible] at home which [illegible] as promising as any to be found elsewhere.

Colorado Springs is a tremendously wealthy city, but its advancement has been retarded not a little by the seeming reluctance of its rich men to invest their money at home and thereby hasten the development which would assuredly bring large returns. The exploitation of Manitou table water on an extensive scale is at least as safe a business venture as the average enterprise in which money is invested, and it is only one of many such opportunities hereabouts. In fact, nothing except capital, and plenty of it, is needed to transform Manitou into the best paying, as well as most beautiful mountain resort in the West.

Why don't some more of our local capitalists wake up?

IN TOUCH WITH THE PEOPLE

THE Department of Popular Government of the Progressive National Service has prepared a list of questions regarding the initiative, the referendum and recall of judicial decisions and the recall of public officers, which was sent out August 25 to 5,000 persons for their replies to the questions which the pamphlet contains. Together with the pamphlet goes a printed letter signed by Delos F. Wilcox, chairman of the Committee on Direct Legislation, and William L. Ransom, chairman of the Committee on the Judiciary of the Department of Popular Government in the Progressive National Service, stating the purpose of the distribution of the pamphlet.

This is certainly a new departure in politics. Five thousand people of every walk in life and every shade of judgment of the initiative, referendum and recall as instruments of democracy, are called in to advise with the Progressive leaders as to "the specific forms of these measures which Progressives may most effectively advocate."

It is plainly impossible to "pick" a list of 5,000 names of persons from all over the country. The results are therefore expected to vary greatly. From the replies a summary will be made and published as the consensus of thoughtful Progressive opinion on the application of the principles of the initiative, referendum and recall to self-government.

* * * *

It is confidently expected by those in charge of the Progressive National Service that this latest and most up-to-date method of political procedure will cause a great deal of discussion among thoughtful people. And it is part of the purpose of the Progressive National Service in sending out this questionaire to stimulate that discussion.

The leaders of the party feel that there is much prejudice against the initiative, referendum and recall, and especially against the recall of judicial decisions, which is founded in a lack of accurate knowledge of the scope and purpose of these policies. To dispel some of this misapprehension, the Bureau of Education issued last spring a reprint of Colonel Roosevelt's celebrated article in Collier's Weekly, entitled "Sarah Knisley's Arm," and distributed 10,000 copies broadcast over the country. Having, through that means, placed before the people the need for some legislative action to make surer the administration of "judicial justice," the Progressive National Service, in the present pamphlet, now takes up with the people the question of the details of the enactments which should be advocated to secure the desired result.

Nothing that the Progressive Party has yet undertaken is so sane and reasonable an application as this of its contention that its platform is a contract with the people, and that the people, as party to the contract, should be consulted from time to time as to its carrying out.

COLORADO SPRINGS, SUMMER CAPITAL

SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR LANE, in an address before the [illegible]

[illegible]

Doubtless Secretary Lane's suggestion was in part a mere pleasantry, but, as he added, it is a serious question which has [illegible] Washington in midsummer is too hot for comfort, and every President [illegible] a summer home elsewhere. Mr. Cleveland used to go to Buzzard's Bay, Mr. Roosevelt to Oyster Bay, and Mr. Wilson has a vacation home at Cornish, N. H.

When Assistant Secretary of State [illegible] was here a few weeks ago with Ambassador Miller he made identically the same suggestion which was yesterday voiced by Secretary Lane, and urged particularly that the remoteness of Colorado Springs from Washington would not affect the case because the President's communication with the national capital is done by telegraph anyway.

With these expressions coming voluntarily from such high sources as the Secretary of the Interior and the Assistant Secretary of State, it behooves Colorado Springs to show a little interest.

OPEN PARLIAMENT

FENDERS.

To the Editor of The Gazette:

I second the motion of "Citizen" in Monday's Gazette as to the urgency of the street car company putting fenders on their cars. Considering the fact of the Pikes Peak region being a great pleasure and health resort for thousands of visitors, I have often wondered at the omission of this necessary safety appliance here. Most cities make it obligatory in the franchises or by ordinance. Hundreds of lives are saved annually by car fenders. When we consider other necessary though less important improvements in our local system the last few years, the evident efforts of the company to please its patrons, added to the ever gentlemanly conduct of its employes, the wonder is that they should have so long neglected this common safety device. We trust that Safety Director Johnson, an old and efficient street car man himself, will use his influence or authority to induce the placing of a fender on every car. The expense will be comparatively trifling.

FROM OTHER PENS

PUBLIC MEN AND THE PRESS.

From the Washington Star.

In some chaffing in the senate Saturday at the expense of Secretary Daniels, Mr. Kern, the democratic leader, introduced a note of seriousness. Rebuking the chaffers who had quoted from the newspapers, he said that [illegible] the press to [illegible] of public [illegible]

No, no. Public [illegible] by the freedom with which their remarks are reported and commented on by the press. The [illegible] and most sensitive of them maneuver for [illegible] They prefer adverse notice to no notice at all. They want to be heard from. If unable to [illegible] either the praise or the censure of the press they are poor, indeed, and soon pass from the stage.

Public men owe the press a great deal; and the majority of them are thankful. None is sacrosanct. All must pay the penalty attaching to prominence and activity in a country of free tongues and free pens. Statesmen kept under glass cases and free from touch would be poor creatures.

Company Manners

BY RUTH CAMERON

A young woman who had promised to meet her mother and younger sister at 3 o'clock one afternoon was 25 minutes late for the appointment.

And this was her excuse: "I'm awfully sorry, but just before I started from home Mrs. Rich called me up on the telephone. She kept talking and talking and I couldn't shut her off without being rude."

She delivered this explanation with an air of having entirely justified herself. Apparently it never occurred to her that she had avoided a lesser rudeness by committing a greater.

Nay, more than that, to have told the friend that she had an appointment and would have to call her up another time would not have been a discourtesy at all, whereas to make two people wait for 25 minutes for anything except absolute necessity was certainly discourteous conduct.

Evidently, she was influenced by that tenet which so many of us hold—that rudeness to one's own family is not rudeness.

The completeness with which people drop all pretense of good manners the moment they enter the bosom of their families would be amusing if it were not so sad. The phrase "company manners" rises up out of the language to accuse us.

If we love our own flesh and blood better than outsiders, as presumably we do, we ought to be more careful in the home than anywhere to observe all those forms of politeness which have their foundations in true courtesy.

And yet how seldom we do! No one with any breeding at all would ever think of entering a friend's room without knocking, but how rare are the families whose members extend the same courtesy to each other.

Almost every mother teaches her children that to interrupt while others are speaking is one of the cardinal sins against good manners; and yet how often do you find a home dinner table at which the members do not constantly interrupt each other.

That one should not contradict is another rule of good manners which is no empty form but rests on a firm basis of consideration and kindness, but I have often heard the members of supposedly well-bred families contradict each other with absolute freedom and without an apparent sense of discourtesy.

As I read this over it seems to me that I am writing truisms. And then again, as I think how many people there are who ignore the self-evident facts I am not at all sorry to have reminded them of them.

TEXAS

(T[illegible] to the [illegible]
[illegible])

Texas! Great [illegible] of states!
Strangers within thy gates
Love thee full well.
Thy hills and fertile fields,
The pure white blossoms yield;
Riches yet unrevealed
On slope and dell.

Cattle on thousand hills,
Drinking from streams and rills,
Sheltered 'neath trees;
Minerals and [illegible] and coal,
Pilgrims here reach their goal
Where ripening grain fields roll
In balmy breeze.

Texas! With mighty ports!
Texas! With glad resorts
For sick and well;
Of long, outstretching arm
Holding the ranch and farm,
With promise free from harm,
We proudly tell.

Texas! Great king of states!
Honor for thee awaits
And power untold;
Thy sisters, small but true,
Give thee thine honest due,
"Star" on Old Glory blue,
Thy place still hold.

Texas! The brilliant "Star,"
Shining from gulf afar
O'er [illegible] land;
Thy future yet must be
Well [illegible] to see;
[illegible] for the brave and free
A [illegible] land.

Texas! The God of right
Rule thee with holy might
In church and state;
Let halls and spires new rise
Upward toward sunny skies,
Where [illegible] and [illegible] flies,—

The price fell over 4 points to 92¼ once, thus establishing a low record price but subsequently rallied to 94½. The stock in former years sold as high as 279 and its pronounced weakness within recent months foreshadowed the reduction which was made in the dividend rate from 8 to 6 per cent annually. Weakness of the stock today was due to estimates of the earnings for the last fiscal year, based on such figures as have appeared. These figures indicated that New Haven failed to earn the dividends of 7½ per cent paid in the last fiscal year having operated at a deficit of more than $4,000,000.

U. S. WILL INVESTIGATE MURDER OF MISSIONARY

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 26.—The United States embassy here has dispatched Lewis Heck, acting vice consul to open an inquiry into the circumstances attending the murder last week of Dr. Charles H. Holbrook, an American missionary at Soushehir, Asiatic Turkey.

According to the official reports Dr. Holbrook, who was a native of Lynn, Mass., was sleeping in the garden surrounding the house of an Armenian who had been paying attentions to some Turkish women. Two Turks determined to punish the Armenian, forced their way into the garden and shot the sleeping Doctor Holbrook in mistake for the owner of the house.

This version of the affair is discredited by private advices to the Bible house which indicate that the murder was a deliberate one.

The murderers have been arrested and are awaiting trial.

WORLD'S LONGEST SUBMARINE CABLE

What is said to be the longest submarine telephone cable in the world has just been laid between Vancouver and Vancouver Island, B. C. It cost over $100,000, weighs 560,000 pounds, and the expense in laying was $20,000. It is said to be the longest telephone cable in the world, and is laid at a depth heretofore not attempted, much of the line going 200 fathoms deep in the Gulf of Georgia, at one place being 1,536 feet deep. By the middle of July a cable will be stretched across Saanich Inlet, which will bring Victoria into much better connections with Vancouver by means of the cable just laid.

T THE GRAND OPERA HOUSE TONIGHT

At the Grand Opera house tonight, hn Mason and his New York Thirtynth Street theater players will be en in the much vaunted and longralded Augustus Thomas play of the uble standard of morality and sym thetic power As a Man Thinks r. Mason comes to this part of the orld late in the season but it is bet r to see him late than not to see him all As may be gathered from a ance at the handsomely bound volne of "As a Man Thinks Mr Thom ' play like his The Witching Hour ' scourses deeply of the human mind, t treats of this not in a telepathic anner as in The Witching Hour hought transference (telepathy) is t dealt with, but what this science is "The Witching Hour ' clean thinkg the influence of pure thought— to the new piece, and good or evil Thomas tells his reader and audit-, re propagated by gentle or base flection, 'as a man thinketh ' Fifth enue, New York city is the scene action and the haracters are d s net types of Gotham's most fash on le set not the [illegible] res of [illegible] New York's best of the social (society) order the nearest it can make toward genuine aristocracy

The story relates the domestic disturbances of a man and his wife The man Frank Clayton (John Flood) deviates once just once from the path of strict propriety, his acknowledged guilt of this serious indiscretion once forgiven by his wife (Julie Herne) is again revived in the woman's heart through Clayton's innocent flirtation with a Paris beauty model and Mrs Clayton's early-day jealousy comes back to life [illegible] than ever In a hysterical spirit of revenge she recklessly though innocently [illegible] protes later goes with a man a household friend an artist by profession one Benjamin De Lota (Lester Chambers) — to his bachelor apartments Clayton the husband discovers this easily enough and there is a break in the home Forgetting his own recklessness in the past Clayton tries to bar the household doors to his wife—tries to turn her out in the street—and forcibly takes his little son from her arms The woman's father Judge Hoover (George Gaston), persuades the husband not to turn his wife out and Clayton then says he will go and take his boy with him There is a great vital moment just here—the gentle Dr Seelig (Mr Mason) appears Stop The little son is a patient, he is in the care of a doctor, and that doctor forbids his removal from the house forbids the separation of the little patient from its mother, who alone can save its life Later in the story the great surgeon, who preaches a new faith—that the propelling power in life is the love man has for woman and the faith he has in her virtue is himself stricken with what he thinks is a great bereavement his only daughter like the child of Shylock has eloped with a Gentile and then Seelig masterfully proves that he is a believer as well as a mere preacher of his doctrine.

Since the death of Richard Mansfield and Joseph Jefferson it has been universally believed that John Mason rightfully becomes America's foremost actor This much was credited to him by the New York and Boston critics years ago when he gave his first performances of the polite gambler Brookfield in 'The Witching Hour and it had been repeatedly remarked that the last year and a half during Mr Mason's portrayal of the sympathetic physician Dr Seelig.

'ELEVATING A HUSBAND' TEACHES NEEDED LESSON

By H. H. F

The Burns stock company this week presents Elevating a Husband The play itself is not noteworthy excepting that the lesson it teaches is a severe arraignment of the artificiality of the modes and manners the cults and isms that oftentimes pass for education and refinement There is in addition a splendid example of the right kind of affection that should exist between mother and son, and between husband and wife As a vehicle to picture strongly the fine old fashioned virtues which so many of us nowadays are often prone to neglect, the play rings true and serves its purpose

'Elevating a Husband tells the story of a shrewd uneducated, uncouth young German American, who early makes his fortunes and wins a wife thereby only to find his home life even amidst its luxury, unattractive and even unbearable because of the social ambitions of his wife He loses his money but wins back his old self-confidence and the love of his wife

For the first two acts there is delightful homely humor that brings forth laugh after laugh from the audience Then there is a tense exciting climax in which the husband finds himself ruined and his wife in love with the man whose rascality has caused the husband's downfall But the best thing about the whole play is the touching tender love of the true son for his old mother It is a fine sentiment well expressed in the play and well brought out by Walter Richardson who appears as Charlie Sample Mr Richardson is equally successful as a fun maker as well. Jane Morgan as Letty, the wife of Charlie Sample is perhaps not quite at home in a part that calls for the rather intense emotional acting of a high strung, discontented wife Her part is the most difficult one she has yet appeared in and one forgives her shortcomings in admiring the many things she does so well

'Elevating a Husband is by no means a play merely for a leading man and a leading woman Jack Marvin s Herbert Duncan is the most villainous villain imaginable Russell Snoad as Professor Topper and Miss Minnie Louise Ferguson as Mrs Muhren the Irish boardinghouse mistress appear in excellent character parts and make the most of them Earl Gardiner in both makeup and mannerisms is strongly reminiscent of the musical genius he is impersonating and gives perhaps the best character impersonation that any of the Burns players have thus far offered Richard Carlyle as Frank Forsythe, and Anna Brandt as Florence Elwood Katherine Perry as Mrs Sample Charles' mother are entitled to a goodly portion of the credit for a finished presentation of a mediocre play.

NEW YORK MARKET

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—Despite a vigorous drive, which unsettled the market for a time in the early trading today, changes, in most cases, were inconsequential, and the market as a whole continued to exhibit the indifference that has characterized it recently.

A quick turn in the course of the market came with the announcement that the reading of President Wilson's message to congress has been postponed at the request of the Mexican government. The belief that a change for the better was implied produced an immediate result. There was a general rally, but price movements thereafter were narrow.

Texas company was exceptionally strong, rising two points to a high record for the year at 115.

CHICAGO MARKET

CHICAGO, Aug. 26.—Corn prices rose ½ to ⅝c today on account of hot weather in nearly the entire corn belt. Wheat eased at the close, after an early show of strength, quotations being a shade to ⅛c net lower. Oats closed ⅜@½ to ⅝c off, and provisions finished a shade up to 5c down.

The chief bullish factor in corn today was the renewed talk of damage done by the heat to the Nebraska crop. Dry, hot weather prevailed today over almost the entire corn country, and the forecast was for a continuance of this condition, for several days at least. September shorts covered freely and rising prices were helped by the higher cables. The market was nervous and active throughout the day, and prices rallied quickly after each little setback following profit taking. Later in the day the weekly Iowa crop report stiffened prices with its showing of large losses to corn in various parts of the state, the crop being estimated at more than 1,000,000 bushels less than that of last year.

Wheat weakened toward the close of the season, largely on an increase of more than 2,000,000 bushels in the world's available supply. Another source of weakness was a falling off in speculative wheat demand, corn again coming in for the greater share of attention. Falling off in export business also helped the bears, and prices eased all around after noon, the early strength due to higher cables and a hardening of cash prices being counteracted by the persistent bear attack.

Heavy selling of oats by leading cash houses took the snap out of the market after an early show of strength.

Generous selling of near months by tired longs depressed provisions, though at the close there was a better showing in lard.

The American Adding Machine

The Latest Adder

Costs But $35

See our exhibit--Ask for 10 days' trial

Here is a new price on a competent Adder on a machine that is rated full size and infallible.

The very latest machine built by men who know in one of the largest metal working shops.

It is an individual Adder to be placed on one's desk, close to one's books and papers. To take the place of the central machine requiring skilled operators.

It is also intended for offices and stores where costly machines are a luxury.

The price is due to utter simplicity and to our enormous output. Seven keys do all the work.

Each copied number is shown up for checking before the addition is made.

The machine will add subtract and multiply. With very slight practice anyone can compute a hundred figures a minute. And the machine never makes mistakes.

Countless offices large and small are getting from these machines the highest class of service.

Now we make this offer so that offices everywhere may learn what this machine means to them.

Ten Days' Test

We will gladly place in any office one American Adder for a ten days test.

There will be no obligation and charges will be prepaid.

Compare it with any non lister even the costliest. Let anyone use it. See if any machine can serve better than this.

Just send us this coupon and we'll send the machine.

The Perfect Baby Of the Future

A Simple Method That Has a Wonderful Influence upon The Future Infant.

Too much can not be said for a wonderful remedy familiar to many women as Mother's Friend.

It is more eloquent in its action than all the health rules ever laid down for the guidance of [illegible]. It is an external application [illegible] its influence upon all the cords, muscles, ligaments and tendons that nature calls into play they expand gracefully without pain, without strain and thus leave the mind care free and in joyful anticipation of the greatest of all womanly ambition

Mother's Friend must therefore be considered as really a most important influence upon the character and disposition of the future generation. It is a conceded fact that with nausea, nervousness and dread banished there is stored up such an abundance of healthy energy as to bring into being the highest ideals of those who fondly theorize on the rules that insure the coming of the perfect baby

Mothers' Friend can be had at any druggist at $1.00 a bottle and it is unquestionably one of those remedies that always has a place among the cherished few in the medicine cabinet

Mother's Friend is prepared by the Bradfield Regulator Co. 139 Lamar Bldg Atlanta Ga., after the formula of a noted family doctor

Write them for a very instructive book to expectant mothers. See that your druggist will supply you with Mother's Friend

They Lace in Front

To Know them is to love them

The women who know Gossard Corsets best are those who love them most.

Special Demonstration of Gossard Corsets

Mrs. Sexton, an expert corsetiere, is with us this week, demonstrating the good qualities of Gossard Corsets. We would be pleased to have you call and learn the many fine points that are to be found in this corset. You will be surprised to know how your figure can be improved and what comfort can be obtained by wearing the proper model of Gossard Corset.

GOSSARD CORSETS "lace in front," and represent the most important revolution of history in the art of corsetry. Gossard Corsets are modeled on scientific lines and give grace, poise and beauty to the figure. They are comfort conferring, and support the figure without the least suspicion of compression.

The wonderful back of a Gossard Corset is a joy to see The smooth, unbroken line, unmarred by laces, faithfully follows the curve of the spinal arch, which the artist, Hogarth, declares to be the most beautiful line in art The woman who wears a Gossard Corset knows that her back, as well as her figure, is correctly corseted.

Even the most indifferent figure is quickly changed to comeliness, and develops beautiful lines, by wearing a correctly fitted Gossard Corset. We have models to fit all figures.

Gossard Corsets are economical and durable, they are made from the best materials, and the steels will not rust. Prices range from $3.50 to $12.50.

DEMONSTRATION AND FITTING ABSOLUTELY FREE. YOU ARE INVITED.

SLAVERY GENERAL IN PHILIPPINE ISLANDS

Commissioner Worcester Lays Facts Before Insular Department

WASHINGTON Aug 26 Slavery in the full meaning of the word exists [illegible] the Philippines even in the city of Manila and peonage is general in the islands according to a special report Commissioner Dean Worcester has made to the insular government It has not [illegible] been received by the war department [illegible] copies are in the hands of other officials

Filipinos [illegible] parts of the island commonly [illegible] children and sell them into slavery for profit Some are sent to China where they are dressed in the native fashion Some children have been [illegible] from their homes by slave agents on promises of scholarships in schools and some of those in an instance which Mr Worcester reports [illegible] were sold and others [illegible] for money

He cites [illegible] case of a 13 year old girl bought for [illegible] pigs and a clock The supreme [illegible] of the islands released the slaver on the ground that no crime [illegible] committed because no physical force had been used This one [illegible] Mr Worcester says has blocked [illegible] prosecutions The Philippine assembly has blocked laws for the suppression of the traffic he says because many of its members come from provinces where slavery flourishes One of his reports on the traffic [illegible] lies tabled in the Philippine assembly Mr Worcester declares he had great difficulty in getting facts of slave cases and intimates that reports were withheld by the officers of the Philippine constabulary He cites the case of a Philippine assemblyman caught redhanded owning a slave [illegible] and says

I could obtain conclusive evidence of a hundred, a thousand, ten thousand of them but why multiply cases It is simply a case of time and work

He charges that Philippine assemblymen maintain peonage on their own farms
